It is my pleasure, as well as my duty, as this Ark-La-Tex Genealogical Assn. year comes to a close to report to the membership an account of my stewardship. These two years have been hectic and much involved, but because of you, the membership, they have also been enjoyable. Without you we could not have accomplished the things we did.

In January 1981 I projected for the organization two sets of goals - SHORT TERM and LONG TERM. For the SHORT TERM I placed in their order of precedence: 1. New Printer, 2. Out-of-Print editions of The Genie, 3. Tax Exempt status from IRS under Section 501(c)(3) of Internal Revenue Code of 1954, 4. Extensive Surname File, 5. Pedigree charts from all members as well as others.

We now have a new printer, as well as a new copier. (Gift)

We have started on the Out-Of Print of GENTE program.

We should be hearing from the IRS soon as to our tax exempt status.

Our Surname file seems to have bogged down and needs to be given more publicity.

Our Pedigree Charts are coming very rapidly and should be completed before the end of the year.

For my LONG TERM GOALS - We need a building of our own. The east has many wonderful examples which we should follow. I am amazed at the organizations in small centers, towns and/or counties who own their own building. This may seem a formidable goal, but it is possible. An organization has to be strong, with great vision and determination to accomplish its goal, but it can be done. I hope I live to see the day when it is accomplished.

believe all issues of THE GENIE should be on microfilm and hope we all see the wisdom of this - perhaps later.

I should like to comment on some of our activities. The Quarterly Exchange program has surely grown during the past year. We now exchange over 100 quarterlies from 30 different states, with all east of the Mississippi River included except Connecticut, Delaware, Michigan, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and West Virginia. This represents approximately a value of $1,000.00 or over.

Our donation of $2500.00 to the Genealogical Department of Shreve Memorial Library was the largest we have ever given, and it is with humility and gratitude that I express my appreciation for the Board and body of this association who support this program. Because the Inter-Loan program of the National Archives through their branch records center has been discontinued, we are very seriously requesting people of the Ark-la-Tex area, and especially members of this organization to donate the cost of a roll of one of the census records which we do not have at Shreve Memorial Library. The Genealogical Dept. of the Library is trying, with our help, to fill in all gaps of the Census records from 1790 through 1880. The cost of one roll is $15.00 to $17.00.

Because of our Book Review Program, we have donated at least 46 books to the Genealogical Dept of the local library. We solicit publishers and authors to send their publication/s to us, we review it in THE GENIE and then donate it to the library here.

These are a few things we have accomplished and also an overview of things I wish we had finished.

I extend to everyone my appreciation and sincere admiration for your cooperation and enthusiasm and God Bless.

Happy Ancestor Hunting -

FERN AINSWORTH

E D I T O R ' S P A G E

The N. G. S. Conference will be held in Fort Worth, Texas next year - April 13-16, 1983. I have been asked to be co-ordinator with Mrs. Hanchey for publicity & public relations for the State of Louisiana. Many in our organization have agreed to help. April is closer than we think, so start planning ahead to attend; more details in January GENIE. This is really a learning experience. (See the N. G. S. announcement in this issue).

As our President, Fern Ainsworth, has mentioned, we need help on our microfilm, especially our 1900 and 1910. Anyone that would like to contribute a roll/s of Census or Soundex we will be glad to list their name & donation in the GENIE. You can specify the county & State you desire. If you feel you can only donate 1/2 ($8.50) of a $17.00 roll of film, we will find a co-contributor for the remainder.

Many researchers are also interested in northern research, some may wish microfilm from these areas. We are trying hard to make Shreve Memorial Library the best research facility in the South. North and South are as one. Our heritage encompasses both. This will help us to have a well-rounded research center. For your convenience an order blank is included on the Membership Application sheet.

I would like to thank Paul Reinowski for helping us with the printing of the GENIE this quarter. Also, to all our contributors that have helped make the GENIE possible. I hope we have helped someone in the past year. We accept the 10 lashes with a wet noodle for the printing. If you received a GENIE that was hard to read, we hope to improve with each issue.

As the year comes to an end I would like to express my gratitude to the present Board for their fellowship and efforts to obtain high goals for our organization.

I wish each and every one of our members a very MERRY CHRISTMAS and a HAPPY 1983. We must look ahead because looking back can be defeating, except in GENEALOGY!

ATTENTION: LIBRARIES AND EVERYONE INTERESTED IN THE INTER-LIBRARY LOAN OF CENSUS MICROFILM,,,,,, The Library Journal, 9/1/82, in an article by J. Carlyle Parker, states that "some Federal legislators are embarrassed by the drastic budget cuts that the GSA passed on to the National Archives..... Letters on this subject may prove influential as the door has not been entirely closed on the issue. A House of Representatives subcommittee is studying this extreme action of the GSA. Librarians (Ed. note: And genealogists too) need to tell their legislators and The Honorable Glenn English, Chairman, Subcommittee on Government Information and Individual Rights, Government Operations Committee (Room B-349C, Rayburn House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515) what they think of these cuts and how they have adversely affected their patrons' research needs." We thank Karen Vavrika of the Tom Green County Library for bring this article to our attention and hope you all will send letters letting the above persons know your feelings.

April 13-16, 1983

Fort Worth Genealogical Society, Hosts

The National Genealogical Society was founded in 1903. Celebrating the Society's eightieth anniversary, this conference is the major genealogical event of the year and will bring together researchers from all parts of the United States and abroad. More than one thousand family historians are expected to attend over fifty program sessions which cover all genealogical interests, featuring outstanding genealogists from America and several foreign countries. Numerous pre-conference activities are planned and the large display hall will be open to all who attend.

For registration, program, and exhibit information, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to:

"Gone To Texas" became a pass-word among early pioneers headed West during the great migrations. Appropriately, the phrase has been adopted as the slogan by genealogists expecting to attend the 1983 N.G.S. Conference in historic Fort Worth. Inquiries for bumper-stickers, lapel buttons, and bulk quantities of brochures for distribution at meetings are invited and encouraged.

ASSOCIATION ANNOUNCEMENTS

DECEMBER MEETING - Installation of Officers & Christmas Party

We will have our yearly Christmas party. Bring a "goodie" and let's visit. Bring your pedigree sheet to Inez Pringle. Let's make this the biggest and best December meeting ever! You all come!

REMINDER - MEMBERSHIP - 1983 dues are due now. Don't forget to include surnames in time to be published in the JANUARY issue of the GENIE 1983. For your convenience a membership blank is included in this issue.

Life Memberships are available for $150.00.

BAZAARS - Two Bazaars are coming up. Please help PEGGY PAYNE (Phone 742-9465) with hand-made items for our bazaars. A little helps a lot!

WORKSHOP - Things are being planned for next year's work shop - WHERE and WHO?????? We need your input. Contact the President or members of the Board. We had an outstanding workshop this year. Let's do even better next year. Early planning is a must!

Back issues of THE GENIE are available for 1967 through the present at $3.00 each or $10.00 for set of 4 for the year involved. We now have a copy machine to print the few issues that are out of print.

A few copies of the SURNAME INDEX, which includes the Table of Contents and all surnames included in each issue, from 1967 through 1977 are still available at $10.50 ea. plus $1.25 postage.

HAPPY THANKSGIVING !!!!!

T H A N K S

TELEPHONE COMMITTEE - Thanks, bunches, to Inez Pringle and Pat Hallgren for those monthly reminders of our meetings. Their fingers are included in the Hall of Fame with Ruthann Billimek's.

The Co-ordinators of the Work Shop - Carl and Pat Hallgren did a great job in 1982. We all learned some things to do and not do. R. G. Pyle did a great job with publicity!

Mary Goldsmith has added much to our organization's funds, as well as member's research, through the Lending Library. The program has been a great success. Mary appreciates the books loaned her for this project.

Wanda Head has worked hard to keep the Quarterly Exchange active and available for members at the library for research.

THE SPANISH FAMILIES OF NATCHITOCHEs: OPPORTUNITIES FOR RESEARCH ON THE LOUISIANA - TEXAS FRONTIER

By: Sharon Brown

I must tell you, I neither read nor speak Spanish, so if I correctly pronounce a Spanish name today, it will be purely accidental.

Ever since the time I was corrected that J E S U S was not pronounced "Jesus" but "Hey-sus", I've been a little hesitant to do more than spell the name.

Not being able to read a Spanish document can make researching your ancestors difficult, but you shouldn't let this stop you. You can learn to read Spanish or you can do as I do, send the document to Elizabeth and let her translate it for you.

Six years ago I started my family research and discovered my ancestors were natives of Los Adaes. It didn't take me long to learn that researching an ancestor from Los Adaes was going to be a very difficult task. After a while, I realized the difficulty was not because material on the Los Adaes people didn't exist, but rather there is such a lack of knowledge about Los Adaes, it's hard to find anyone that can help you.

I would venture to say that Los Adaes and its people have to be the most neglected area in Louisiana and Texas history. I hope one day to see Los Adaes, at long last, get the due recognition, I think, it deserves.

Records to help you research Los Adaes and the Spanish missions can be found in Texas. Here you will find three main archives: The R. B. Blake Collection, The Nacogdoches Archives, and the Bexar Archives.

I've heard it said, the R. B. Blake Collection and the Nacogdoches Archives are one-in-the-same. This is not true! While some documents are duplicated in the two archives, all of the documents are not the same.

Robert Bruce Blake was for many years a court reporter, for the Nacogdoches district. He spent more than 30 years of his life researching and translating the official and private Spanish documents of the Nacogdoches and Bexar Archives. His private collection is housed at the Barker Texas History Center, Austin, Texas. These works have been reproduced and bound into 93 volumes. These 93 volumes are divided into two sets: 75 - Red Volumes and 18 Green Volumes, which are supplements.

I know of three places that have this bound collection: The Ralph Steen Library, Nacogdoches, Texas; The Barker Texas History Center, Austin, Texas; and the Alamo Library, San Antonio, Texas.

The best place to research the Blake Collection is the Special Collections Department in the Ralph Steen Library on the campus of Stephen F. Austin University at Nacogdoches, Texas.

The personnel of the Special Collection Dept. made a name index for the first 53 of the Red Volumes and 5 of the Green Volumes. (They will, in time, finish indexing the rest of the volumes.) This index can only be used with their Blake Collection. It seems that each time this collection is reproduced it's bound differently per volume. The Special COLLECTIONS Dept. is missing two volumes, but because of the inconsistent method of reproduction there is no way to know which documents they did or did not get, therefore they have only 91 volumes. The Barker Texas History Center and the Alamo Library have all 93 volumes, but they do not have a name index - only a general calendar.

In the Blake Collection, you can find official documents, personal letters, diaries, family and place histories, land documents and early census reports of Nacogdoches - the earliest census in 1792. Los Adaes people are found throughout these census.

An index to these census reports has been compiled by Carolyn Ericson in her book: Nacogdoches -- Gateways to Texas, A Biographical Directory, 1773-1849. Also, in the back of this book are several translated documents of interest, one being the 1773 petition of the Los Adaes people, asking permission to resettle in Los Ais, instead of staying in San Antonio.

To me, some of the most interesting documents found in the Blake Collection are called: Journal of Operations and New Occurences in the Village of Nacogdoches. These are daily reports of the activities in Nacogdoches. For instance, they would start with January 1, 1802 and each day of that month the activities for that day would be recorded. In these records I've found where my great-great-great grandfather, Mariano Basques, left to chase mustang, went to hunt bear and deer and went to the establishment of the Texas Indians on the Neches River in search of strayed horses. To me, finding information such as this on an ancestor makes family research all the more interesting.

THE SPANISH FAMILIES OF NATCHITOCHEs - Cont'd,

Other materials that can be found in the Special Collections Dept, are: family papers; the Nacogdoches Archives; the Bexar Archives, all 172 reels of microfilm of the original Spanish documents; and 87 volumes of the Translated Bexar Archives, dated 1717-1808; county records for Cherokee, Nacogdoches, Panola, Sabine and San Augustine - these records include deed records, marriage records, probate docketts, probate minutes and wills. For anyone interested in Antonio Gil Y'barbo the department has a thesis on him entitled: Antonio Gil Y'barbo - Founder of Modern Nacogdoches. There is a copy of this thesis available for borrowing on inter-library loan.

The personnel in the Special Collections Dept. will do limited research for you.

The Nacogdoches Archives, dates from 1731-1836. This archives consist of 90 volumes of typewritten transcripts of the official records created and accumulated at Nacogdoches, during the Spanish and Mexican periods of government. Included are correspondences, decrees, orders, circulars, census reports, and other communications to the frontier from higher governmental authorities; correspondences and proceedings of the major and the municipal government of Nacogdoches and records relating to adjacent territories.

The best place to research the Nacogdoches Archives is the Barker Texas History Center, Austin. Barker has a name index for all 90 volumes of the Nacogdoches Archives.

Eugene C. Barker Texas History Center was established by the University of Texas Board of Regents in 1945. It houses all books, archives, letters, documents and other items related to Texas and Southwestern history.

The Barker Center will research their card files for you.

The last archives is the Bexar Archives. There are 172 reels of microfilm covering the original Spanish documents dating 1717-1836.

For the early mission era, if you can't read Spanish, it isn't necessary to struggle with these reels. There are 193 volumes of Translated Bexar Archives. These range from 86 pages to 528 pages per volume, with a total of 36,598 pages for all 193 volumes. They are divided into three groups; 1st, Volumes 1 - 151 date from September 30, 1699 to January 31, 1788; 2nd, Parts 1 thru 4 (also called Volumes 66, 67, 68) date January 1, 1804 to December 31, 1804; and last, Volumes 1 - 38 are dated 1803 to September 30, 1808. There is an index in each volume except for Parts 1 thru 4.

Included in this valuable archives is information on the establishment of presidios, settlements and missions, troop reports, correspondences, diaries, hearings and trial proceedings, and much, much, more,

The earliest troop report I've found for Los Adaes, dates October 5, 1737. These troop reports give the names of both officers and soldiers at Los Adaes for that given year.

The hearing and trial documents are valuable in compiling family data. Let me give you an example: Volume 29, dated May 6, 1755, consists of 100 pages. This is one document, covering proceedings held at Los Adaes against a man accused of theft, contempt of the authorities and disorderly conduct. In this one document, there are depositions by 15 different witnesses and altogether the names of 48 different people appear. From these depositions you can get various information; their names, their ages, their occupation and sometimes they tell, who they are related to. Of course, you might also find information on an ancestor you'd rather not know, such as, he could be accused or you could find, as I did, that your fourth great grandmother removed is one of two women caught having illicit relations with the accused, and she's being asked to leave Los Adaes.

With the absence of ecclesiastical records for the missions, it is necessary to check all records for any information you might find.

I know of only two places that have all 193 volumes of the Translated Bexar Archives; The Bexar County Courthouse, Clerk of Courts Office, San Antonio and the Barker Texas History Center, Austin.

The Bexar County Courthouse has a variety of old records including: The Spanish Mexican Records, 1736-1836 - which includes land grants and sales, mission records, land outside Bexar County, wills and estates, rebel property, power of attorney and a lot more. One interesting item in the wills is a translated copy of the will of Antonio Gil Y'barbo. A guide to their holdings can be purchased through the Clerk's Office.

The Institute of Texas Cultures at San Antonio had Camela Leal, a translator and archivist for the city of San Antonio, compile for them all census reports available for Texas missions. This 3 reel set of microfilm is entitled: Translations of Statistical and Census Reports of Texas, 1782-1836, and Sources Documenting the Black in Texas, 1603-1803. This microfilm may be purchased from the Institute.

As I am sure you know, the Guadalupe College in Zacatecas, Mexico was responsible for the establishment and abandonment of Los Adaes. I have always felt this was the logical archives to have the ecclesiastical records of Los Adaes.

In Herbert Bolton's Guide to the Archives of Mexico, it says that in May 1820 the whole contents of the Guadalupe College Archives were revised and indexed. By this time, most of the early Texas records had disappeared, it was speculated they had been passed to another college. In 1913, when Bolton made his index, he said the archives was in two separate collections, one in the library and the other (this one being the most important collection) in a case in the stairway leading to the attic, at the rear of the building. Bolton said that because of its disorganization, a systematic general description was scarcely possible. Even with the absence of most early Texas records, Bolton's description of the ecclesiastical archives shows several documents on Los Adaes, Bucareli, Nacogdoches; bundles marked "Missions of Texas", certifications of baptisms in the Texas missions, 1740, 1747, and more. This archives definitely bares researching.

Finally, the franciscan friars have agreed to microfilm the complete archives of the Guadalupe College. There will be only one copy available in the United States. It will be housed at the Old Missions Research Library, which is now located in Our Lady of the Lake University at San Antonio. The friar, in charge of microfilming, is making a very detailed index of each reel. None of these reels were available last summer, but they were typing on some of the index. I don't know if any are available yet.

You can do research in this library, by appointment only, through Sister Maria Carolina Flores, who is in charge of the archives.

Some original material and books from the Guadalupe College at Zacatecas can also be found at The San Jacinta Museum of History.

The San Jacinta Monument and Museum of History is located 21 miles from downtown Houston off State Highway 225.

The museum has become a repository of original material. Approximately 400,000 pages of manuscripts are in the museum's collections relating to the Republic of Texas and the frontier.

There is a collection of older books whose value derives from the contemporary insight which they give to the periods of Spanish and Mexican influence in Texas.

You can research in this library by appointment only and it has to be made two weeks in advance.

The University of Texas at Austin has the largest archival holdings of both original and translated documents, pertaining to the Texas missions I've found. These holdings are housed at the Barker Texas History Center. The General Libraries and the Nettie Benson, Latin American Collections. The Latin American Collections is a special research center of the General Libraries. The card catalog file of the Latin American Collections covers 50 volumes plus 4 supplement volumes. Copies of these volumes can be found in Louisiana at LSU and Tulane Libraries. Part of their archives includes a special section on Mexican American materials, which has numerous documents on Los Adaes and other Texas missions.

One item of importance to be found at the General Libraries is a 9 volume set of indexes of the personnel papers of the general military archives of Segovia. Military papers are very important in family research. In the induction papers, I've seen, the soldier give his name, age, nativity, his parents' names, and there is also a physical description of the soldier. These index volumes are available on inter-library loan.

Another research facility in Austin is the Texas State Library, Lorenzo de Zavala State Archives and Library Building. This library's Genealogy section is another rich source for anyone interested in family research.

One of the best methods I know to find new sources for researching your ancestors, is books and articles written on the missions and people of Spanish Texas. Books such as: Texas in the Middle Eighteenth Century and Guide to the Archives of Mexico by Eugene Bolton; Spanish and Mexican Records of the American Southwest by Henry Beers; San Antonio in the Eighteenth Century: With the Makers of San Antonio by Fredrick Chabot; and Our Catholic Heritage in Texas by Carlos Castenedo, 6 volumes, just to name a few.

Always check the index for the names of missions and people you happen to be interested in, read the footnotes and the bibliography of each book.

While in San Antonio, two years ago I picked up the book, San Antonio in the Eighteenth Century and immediately looked at the index for Los Adaes. On page 76 it said, many of the soldiers, who appear in the records of Los Adaes married girls in Bexar. Most of their marriages were recorded at San Antonio de Valero (Alamo), along with the baptisms of their children. Some were buried there, too. After buying the book, I went to the Alamo Library to check this out. They not only had the records, but they have been translated by John Ogden Leal and quite a few Los Adaes people can be found in the Alamo records. Mr. Leal has also translated the records of the other San Antonio missions and the early records of the San Fernando Cathedral. The Alamo Library has a copy of all these translations.

With the Makers of San Antonio by Fredrick Chabot is a book tracing the early families of San Antonio. In the section on Spanish-Mexicans, many Adaesanos can be found.

In spite of the hardships of traveling in the wilderness, frequent visiting from presidio to presidio is evident. So, to research your Los Adaes ancestor, it is absolutely necessary to look at documents for the missions and presidios of La Bahia, Los Ais, Nacogdoches, Bucareli,

THE SPANISH FAMILIES OF NATCHITOCHEs - Cont'd.

San Antonio and probably others.

In no way have I adequately covered the archival holdings of the research centers and libraries I've mentioned. I have merely attempted to show you what an enormous amount of material does exist and where some of it is located. You can write to each place I've mentioned and get a general index of their holdings.

Good luck with your research.

John Hankiman (?) Esq.
Agent for Indian Trade
Natchez,

Your Letter of 27 feb, enclosing Bill of lading of merchandize shipped pr the Barge Quincy duly came to hand - this merchandize also arrived in good order -

I have declined paying the freight on account of a disagreement between Mr. Portlet (?) and myself as to the manner of measuring the Packages

Enclosed is a list of their dimensions -

Sir

Your Letter of Oct 7th covering Invoice of Merchandize forwarded by you for this Factory duly came to hand - Invoice being 2866 23/100 $ instead of $4850.23 as stated by you in your letter, no Invoice of Powder being included - The Merchandize including 43 Kegs Powder arrived in good order on the 17th Inst. -

Genl John Mason
Sir

I was not enabled until the 9th Inst to forward the rest of our Peltries but two Boats have left this place since December last, the ones with a family occupying nearly the whole of the Boat the other in which I shipped the first parcel of skins - To induce the person by whom I forwarded the last parcel to take them I was obliged to give a very extravagant freight just double that of the first of which three Merchants of this place who has Barges has offered to take them for - Enclosed is Invoice of the same -

The Goods shipped by Mr. Hankiman (?) for this factory arrived in good order on 17 Inst, the three Bales Strands forwarded by Mr Saul, on the 7th - no Invoice for the Powder or Strands yet received - not finding any mention made of Lead I have requested Mr Saul to purchase 300 lbs which perhaps he may want your instructions to do - there is not a pound in Store -

I find the following differences between the Goods as put up and the Invoice viz Bon 2 Cow Bells short - 4000 flints and one pr 3 pt Blankets not invoiced - they shall be noted in the receipted Invoices --

The Death of Mr. Magee the Commander of the American Party in New Spain which took place last Month has caused effects very different from any that were anticipated instead of falling into anarchy as the way expected they would do from the number who responded to the Commander Samuel Kemper next in command was peaceably elected his successor & has since beaten Salcedo & obliged him to break up his camp - by letters from La Bahia received here within 4 or 5 days since we are informed that Salcedo's arriving is entirely dispersed & that several companies who deserted Salcedo, have joined Kemper - Don Bernado has issued a Proclamation declaring Matagorda a free Port & the Province of Texas open to the Commerce of all who choose to adventure (?) no duty or imposition to be paid or enacted -

It is now probable that Genl Antoine will take command of this post - which if he does, the numbers that will be induced to volunteer under him will change in a little time the nature of the expedition and give it a committance that will in all likelyhood render it formidable -

31st March

Your favor 10 feby covering Invoice of Powder was received a few days since - On 29 April I received from Mr Saul 3200 lb Lead which I informed - on 20th March I had requested him to purchase for this factory

A General Toledo a native of Havana arrived here a few days since from the United States on his way to New Spain accompanied by 9 or 10 Persons among whom were a former french Colonel Colaman (?) lately aid to Genl Hull at Detroit - a young frenchman and Spanish Doctor & three or four Americans, one a printer who has with him a printing press & types - On General Toledo's arrival at Natchez he was requested by a third person to meet Genl Adair for the purpose of a private interview which he declined - this request was again made to him by Mr Blennerharest (?) in more pressing terms & again refused - Toledo observing he had no private business with any Gentleman & that if Genl Adair wished to see him he could call at his lodgings - he appeared so much indisposed towards Adair that if he takes Command of the revolutionary forces in the neighboring provinces which he expects to do it will probably forever exclude Adair & Burn from participating therein - there has been some pains taken to make an impression on the minds of the people that Toledo is a french Agent - the declaration of junto of Cadis declaring him a traitor to his country on french pay & offering a reward for his head being accused as such he has arrived as such he has arrived at Nacogdoches where he says he has been extremely well received - yesterday an intelligent young American arrived here from San Antonio, who informs that the revolutionary party took possession of that town the first of April having routed Salcedo & Harrara the preceeding day about nine Miles distant from the Town - On the arrival of the conquering party near the town the royal Spanish Officers Salcedo & Harrara came out & delivered their Swords to their conquerors - Bernado under the pretense of better securing them ordered them to be marched with an escort of 75 or 80 native Spaniards to La Bahia & gave the Spaniard commanding the escort private orders to dispatch them at a short distance from the town - this he did by cutting all their throats 16 in number, stripping them naked & leaving their bodies exposed as prey to wild beasts - it is said Harrara preyed earnestly to be shot instead of being butchered like a dog - but no attention was paid to his prayers & he suffered as the others - this gives great discontent to the Americans joined in the enterprise - Kemper and several others are on their way in & are all looked for tomorrow.

Enclosed Samples of the parcel of Wool which I informed you has remained at Nacogdoches. The person who has refused to take it, finding but little probability of being paid for the Goods sold to the republican army has since consented to receive it - I informed him I had a desire to purchase but his reply was that he had had a great deal of trouble with it & intended to take it to where he might perhaps be paid for his labor - he spoke of Kentucky if he makes this shipment I will advise you of it & where shipped. That if you deem it expedient you may have it purchased there on its arrival. Tho I presume the quantity will not much exceed 10,000 lbs. The Samples are taken from five Bales indiscriminately - -

A few days since an express arrived from San Antonio informing of another victory gained by the republicans over about 1500 royalists commanded by Genl Alazando (?) - two or three leagues distant from the town. 150 Spaniards killed & many wounded. 3 pieces Cannon 350 Stand of arms, baggage, flour was taken from them - the loss of the republicans inconsiderable - The Success of this party is probably the most astonishing occurrence of the times - if you think This is the greatest possible anarchy & want of subordination continually disputing & at variance. The Officers neither having or pretending to any military knowledge with no authority authority to enforce their commands - Bernado disliked by both Americans & Spaniards - abandoned first by Kemper & afterwards by Ross who succeeded him in command - destitute of Bread & spiritous liquors - a long time before this last engagement without even salt to their Beef their only food - yet under all these privations and circumstances are they kept together by a kind of fascination like the jews of old in the expectancy of being ultimately fully recompenced for all their labors their toils and fatigues in the acquirement of honors riches & great happiness (?) - That they keep together is wondrous, but under these circumstances that they should conquer must be attributed to a fatality which has destined that immense country to take its rank among the nations of the earth & occupy the place that God & Nature have assigned it -

Toledo had again left this place for San Antonio - he expects to succeed (?) Bernado who has committed numbers of outrages & estranged all or most of his friends from him.

Since writing the above I have seen a letter in 10 days from San Antonio informing that the Junto had called a Meeting of the inhabitants

LETTERBOOK OF THE NATCHITOCHEs SULPHUR FORK FACTORY - Con'td

& Officers at which meeting a vote of invitation was given to Genl Toledo to come & take the Command - It is further said there was not a dissentient except Bernado - the Letter also states that Bernado with his family are to return to the States.

Sir

Your letter of 20 June advising of a parcel of goods being shipped from George Town destined for this factory duly came to hand - Genl Mason has advised me that he expects they will arrive at Natchez in all this onths & that he will request you to forward them on as early as practicable - I should be glad if in making the freight payable that you would be pleased to ascertain it on the Bill of Lading.

3 September

Genl John Mason

Sir

Enclosed herewith is a Statistical Sketch of the four eastern internal provinces of the Spanish possessions - A Copy in Spanish was brought to this place by Genl Toledo and translated by a gentleman here. It was presented by the representatives of Cohauila to the Cortes at Cadiss (?) and is said to be much the best account of that country that has yet appeared -

Your letter of 22 May covering invoices duly came to hand, I have not yet heard of the arrival of the Goods at Natchez.

Biddle Welkiman (?) a Son of the General & aid to Genl Toledo arrived here today from the neighborhood of San Antonio - he relates the following circumstances of the total defeat of the republican army under Genl Toledo - On the 18th of Aug after having marched about seven miles on the great road on which it was said the royal troops commanded by Arradonda (?) were advancing toward San Antonio they fell in with his advance guard which they drove (?) in on his main body & took three pieces of cannon. The Republican Troops had been so fatigued on their march over a burning sand without water that Toledo after taking the cannon ordered a retreat to their morning's camp but was opposed by a Col Manchos (?) with insuations of his design to prevent a victory & favor the royal troops of which suspicious suspicions had been encited that he was an adherent. This induced Toledo to continue his march & the actions immediately became general. The repub (?) Spaniards fled almost at the commencement of the action leaving not more than 350 Americans & 200 Indians to sustain the whole weight of the enemy. They persevered in the unequal contest for about one & a half hours but were finally forced to give way & the route became a mere flight - each one thinking but for his own safety abandoning cannon arms ammunition baggage & in fact every thing and their destitute wounded & fatigued - about 60 of them had reached Nacogdoches when W. W. (?) left them among whomever - Genl Toledo Col Kemper who had joined them but a few days before & Col Perry W. W. (?) had no idea of the loss of either party but thinks the loss of Arradanda (?) must have been very considerable his force was estimated at about 3000.

Toledo writes from Nacogdoches that he proposes fortifying that place & defending himself until reinforcements come to his aid or perish in the attempt.

The effect of this defeat at this place is that most of the Inhabitants are fearful that the Spaniards will take vengeance on them either by coming themselves or enticing the Indians to Commit depredations - there is but one or two tribes from whom they appear to entertain much apprehension & that arises more more from them being such great villians than from any other cause except indeed their being Creeks & their descendents they are little numerous and are called here Conchaties & Alibamaes - The Native Indians are too peaceably disposed or too much disinclined to war to be much wrought on the Caddoes & then dependents are I believe really attached to the Americans & I have no doubt that the roving Choctaws and Chickasaws prefer the Americans to either french or Spanish & they have but little knowledge of the english - There is a mutual dislike between the Choctaws & the french & I have frequently been requested to trade alone with them without the intervention of the Interpreter a Frenchman - These are my present impressions but experience has shown how little dependence can be placed on Indian tribes they are too generally fond of siding with the strongest.

5th (?)

Gen John Mason

Sir

Genl Toledo finding that he could not keep together the few Americans who came into Nacogdoches & the Spaniards receiving no disposition to uphold him he by advice of the Officers around him determined to evacuate the place & arrived here yesterday - Thus ends the revolution in this quarter from which so much had been predicted.

It had been announced that the royalists gave no quarter to men women or children & the fears of the inhabitants of this place move to so great a height from a consciousness they had of the means they furnished the republican troops to carry on the enterprise & the consequent irritation they supposed would exist in the royalists that many were making arrangements for their safety - Some of the Merchants packed up their goods to have them ready at a moment for embarkation. They wanted the Militia called forth to protect them & Doctor Sibley sent to the Caddo & other Indian Villages to request the aid of their warriors. The last march against the advice of some whose nerves were not quite so tender & who reasoned on this impolicy as well as improbability that the Spaniards after such laborious work with a handful of men would excite the whole Nation upon them by an act of such unjustifiable aggression -

We have since learned that they do not treat with inhumanity those not found in arms & that they have already given liberty to a number of families to retire either more in the interior or across the Sabine from an intention no doubt to make a wilderness from that river to San Antonio or perhaps to the Rio Grande - This news has quieted the apprehensions of those most alarmed & things are now tranquil -

N. B. of 350 Americans it is not certainly ascertained that many above 100 are saved.

I regret extremely the non arrival of the Merchandise to the great disappointment it has been to the Indians as well as depriving us of a profitable trade we should have had had they arrived as a number of the interior Indians were on their way to this place with a large number of Buffalo Robes (which is the same as Cash) but being informed by the Main (?) Indian (?) Chief that we had little or nothing in Store returned to their homes,

Enclosed also is a Draft of Doctor Sibley on the Secretary of War for $322 on a/c of the Factory -

I informed you in my last that owing to an alarm from the Spaniards several tribes of Indians had been invited to our aid - As before the Indians arrived all apprehension had subsided & this affair of the Creeks at Mims Station just being known the nature of sending for them was changed into a desire of giving them a proper and correct knowledge of this shaping events and an endeavor to pledge them to us in case we should need their assistance - At a Talk given to the Caddoes and Alabamas the Caddo Chief expressed much satisfaction at the information communicated of which he said he had been desirous as he had heard many and various reports and did not know the truth from the contrary that though his tribe had never shed the blood of a white man yet his heart and hand had always been with us since he had first known us and that he was ready and willing to make common cause with us and that our enemies should be his enemies -

The Alabama Chief observed we would assist each other if necessary. The Spaniards in Texas are acting a strange part - they have not crossed the river Trinity - the party that came that far have returned to San Antonio - two reasons are given for this procedure the one report that Father Wirt (?) a republican priest is in considerable force on their rear advancing on them - the other the almost impossibility of subsisting their horses and mules from a want of pasturage -

We shall in a few days know if either of these motives have acted upon them.

Enclosed is a Draft of Doctor Sibley in favor of and endorsed by Gaspard Phillaleu (?) on the Secretary of War for $180 on account of this factory.

A person who styles himself Genl Hambre has arrived here within a few days who says he has the control of funds men and arms sufficient to set on foot another expedition to the Province of Texas - he has gathered around him a few frenchmen that escaped from the destruction of the former one & some few that came on here too late to join in it - he appears disposed to enlist the neighboring Indians in his cause for which purpose it is conjecture - he paid a visit to a person formerly in Spanish pay as a kind of Indian Agent immediately after his arrival - this person is generally supposed to have great influence over the native tribes who lives at a considerable distance from the Post at an infrequent place whose family consist of negroes & Mulattoes & whose manner of living & situation in life would forbid the idea of a mere visit of ceremony or curiosity - this desire to obtain Indian aid has created doubts of his assertions and as he proposes to hate the french Emperor & consequently can expect no assistance from that government it is thought he is a mere pretender - we have been so overrun with Generals & Colonels for the last few months that when one is announced it causes but little inquiry or attention -

P.S. Genl Hambre (?) says he has been 20 years in french service & 10 in exile.

Enclosed is a Draft of Doctor Sibley on the Secretary of War for $697 00/100 being for the amount of Merchandize furnished him from this Factory - also the second of this Draft remitted favor G Phillaleu (?) remitted 27th Nov (?) -

I have made an advantageous Sale of our Bear Skins by which we clear a profit of near $100 - I had an offer for our Deer Skins in hair which would have made in whole upon our present calculation of 25% discount & if the person would have taken our shaved skins at the same proportion I should have made Sale of the whole but not being instructed as to them I declined separating them not having more than 2000 on hand -

Genl John Mason

The Police Jury of the Parish of Natchitoches have entered into a resolution to address the President of the United States, Congress & the Legislature of Louisiana praying that this factory may be removed to the Sabine - I did expect to have procured a Copy of the address to have sent you but the person who has the drawing of it up & forwarding refused me one on the pretext of his wishing it to arrive at Washington without comment -

From the arguments that I understood were made acct (?) of in the jury to obtain the adoption of the resolution & which I am informed are to form the basis of the memorial the two principal & I believe almost the only real motives for the measure were kept from view -

The first is the interference of the factory with the interests of the Merchants on the division of between two & three thousand Dollars in Spices from their Coffers pr an: They have long regarded with a jealous eye our receipts & the probably influence that will be obtained over the Indian tribes to their exclusion in the trades of Peltries should peace take place with England - it is they who first found out this inconvenience of this Factory & they who have most complained - This I believe to be the moving principle but which has been much accelerated by the second which the good people of Natchitoches have been pleased to call an improper & imprudent action one of which two or three of the principal have promised to remedy in future namely the purchasing of the Bear's Oil brought in by the Indians - A small experiment was made in this article the preceeding year when finding I could get a ready Sale for all that could be bought- I refused this year to receive the Peltries of those Indians who had Oil unless the Oil was brought to me also - It is a nasty article to trade in & nothing but what I conceived (?) the interest of this establishment & the desire to make up as much as possible our losses on Peltries induced me to engage in it though the amount was not great yet it was the same as ready money as it was sold afterwards on the Skins in which it was brought in at the price given for it -

This unfortunately interfered with the arrangements of a number of a number of persons who were accustomed to deal in it & although I sold it at the price given for it which was not more than three fourths of what it ought to have been yet as they have been in the habit of getting it at almost nothing when they were in a state of intoxication of which they watched their opportunities & frequently objected in making them so they are much disobliged & raised a great clamour which went from one end of this Parish to the other - they said I had bought this Oil (?) expressly to injure them & had speculated upon their wanting that I had sent into the nations forbidding them to trade with the inhabitants & had favored my Father in law by allowing him privileges which others had not - the whole or either which never entered into my thoughts. It is true that Joseph (?) whose daughter I married purchased nearly one half from me but Charles Pavie who purchased near one third I am not sufficiently intimate with to visit without business - the balance sold to about half a dozen persons as shown by our Books - These two motives which from conversations I am convinced are the real ones were not I presume appear in the memorial.

The grievances as alledged by the Jury were much exaggerated neither would they be obviated by the removal of the Factory they are such as they have always suffered since (?) Natchitoches was a Post as I am informed by persons who resided here before the establishment of this Factory & which were not complained when the commerce on Peltries was beneficial one of the Chiefpromoters of the clamour having realized a favor (?) by this same commerce & which the establishment of this Factory him to abandon - -

The removal of the Factory to the Sabine is out of the (?) as the land transportation of the Merchandise & Peltries to & from Natchitoches - the stora & would nearly consume the returns made in at their present reduced value - The Sabine is chosen for the express purpose of removing it from red river that this interference may be done away as it is by this river that the Oil & some other valuable articles are brought in & would have no other effect than depriving us of our Cash Sales. The receipt of these articles & to increase the journey of those Indians who reside to the east of the river & who would be obliged to travel over precisely the same ground that it is now complained they commit their thefts of Corn on -

The most strenuous advocates for the removal admits the necessity of a factory somewhere at this moment as they well know that without such an establishment it would be at their expense - the Indians would support themselves at being familiar to their knowledge that for a whole hunt of deer skins an Indian could not procure a pound of Powder or a single blanket at any other place & that consequently what their utmost industry could not procure they would be necessitated to obtain by pillage & by force -

The Indian Agent is included in the resolution but that is merely to give consistency to their reasons.

Genl John Mason

Sir

Since mine of 8th Inst the Memorial there referred to has been handed me to copy a Copy of which with an advertisement of the Marguelliens (?) of the Catholic Church of this Parish & an exhort from the minutes of the Jury are enclosed - by the latter it will appear hard for the Parish Judge has conformed or been governed by that resolution in his prayer that this Factory may be removed thirty or forty leagues above the village when the resolution confined him expressly to the Sabine & in condescending to be the advocate & officious by volunteering to be the representative of the Catholic Congregation in praying that the house may be delivered over to them which at the time of writing he had no authority from them for doing & even had such authority existed the intermixture of Civil & religious matters would have been highly improper -

This is another great exciting cause in desiring (?) the removal of the factory of which to me was before unknown - The eager & urgent wish to obtain the building without paying for it has impelled them beyond prudence as it unmasked still more clearly the motives that have influenced them & which the overzeal of the Judge has suffered to escape him before it was time - The Congregation have never informed me that they will receive no compensation for the ground on the contrary an idea has always been held out to me until within these two or three days that it would be arranged without difficulty though I have no doubt as three of the Marguelliens (?) were in the Jury & their President & one other were Indian traders that their views will be brought to assimilate but that no pretence may be made of a disinclination to alienate their land where where advertisement is forwarded by which it will be seen that it is their intention & the Lots adjoining the factory were to have been sold the 13th of this but the Sale was postponed on this sale account of the bad prospect there was for effecting it -

A short explanation in what manner this became private property will not perhaps be improper -

When the Post of Natchitoches was first established it was at some little distance from its present site & the Lots of the present village were granted to the Soldiers for the purpose of gardens that they might furnish themselves with a few vegetables - The concessions were on the bottom land & extended from the river to the high land varying from 100 to 300 yards distant from the river & most of the transfers that have been made of these Lots call for the high land for one of their boundaries - These circumstances being known to me & no claim whatever having been entered in the Register's Office for the ground in question - The Factory was built thereon without any objections being made or any suspicions that there ever would be - The general opinion being that it was public land justified by the assent of the last Spanish Commandant - but, two or three cunning Americans becoming proprietors of Lots conceived the idea that as the usual depth of concessions was 40 arpens the same depth might be obtained for the town Lots & extended their claims for that depth - - This was an example too interesting to the french holders not to be followed & about one year after the erection of the Buildings the Ground they occupied was claimed in the Commissioner's Office in behalf of the Parish of Natchitoches & has without any legal transaction came into the hands of the Church which has been incorporated but about 9 months - There being but few American Landholders in the Parish the interest of the Church & body politic are considered the same & if by the removal of the factory the house should be obtained it is to be converted into a Courthouse & serve this Parish Judge for a dwelling merely to save the inhabitants the expense of building one -

I had made arrangements with an attorney in the habit of attending to Land Claims to enter a Civeat (?) in the Commissioner's Office at Opelousas against the granting of the Land & to procure a commission for taking testimony but owing to his indolence or worse neglect a certificate issued before either was done & the person who obtained it afterwards boasted of his smartness or over-ranking the other & acknowledged that had he been twenty four hours later the Certificate would not have been issued,

OLD STATELINE CEMETERY
Bossier Parish, La.

The Old Stateline Cemetery is situated just inside the Louisiana-Arkansas border in northern Bossier Parish. It adjoins Teague Lake Rd. The cemetery lies south of the road on the Louisiana side about 1/4 mi. from Bayou Bodcau between the community of Shiloh and Springhill, La.

The cemetery was abandoned in the 1940's; however, recently the Old Stateline Cemetery Assn. was established to restore it. Mr. John A. Manry, historian for Bossier Pr., and a resident of Plain Dealing, La., states there was originally a church and school situated on three acres adjoining the cemetery. The congregation divided ca 1870 with a portion of the congregation organizing the Shiloh Baptist Church and the other group organizing the New Stateline Baptist Church about three miles north in LaFayette County, Ark. The cemetery is approximately 300 ft. X 300 Ft. Several gravesites are either unmarked or marked only by an iron stake.

The Kate P. Nelson Seminary.

THE SEMINARY was established in 1879 for the purpose of affording Southern girls the opportunity of acquiring a broad and liberal education, such as would fit them for independent living, and for honor and usefulness. The development of a vigorous, noble womanhood is its object from first to last. This result is reached by breadth and thoroughness of instruction, and by the awakening of patient endeavor.

The time has come in our history when an idle, helpless woman is just as useless in society as an idle, helpless man. This school has developed a strong sentiment in favor of any useful and honorable industry that will add to the happiness of women, increase their usefulness, and when self-support is necessary, open up channels of work in various directions. The best methods of teaching is brought to Shreveport doors, and what has been done so well in the past, will be done still better in the future. In order to do this substantially and thoroughly, Southern people must come to our support with a degree of zeal and enthusiasm in proportion to the excellence of the school.

BUILDING.

A beautiful new building was erected in 1890 at a cost of $30,000. It contains every room and hall that is needed to carry on school work successfully.

The erection of the new building was mainly due to Captain S. Levy, Jr., President of the Board of Directors, who consummated the movement for the building and the enlargement of the school.

It is an imposing structure, carefully planned, with every modern improvement in ventilation, lighting and heating.

The building is three stories high, and contains forty rooms and halls. The Assembly Hall, large, airy and well lighted and ventilated, situated in the second story, is 80x44 feet, with accommodations for two hundred pupils.

Electric call bells connect the Assembly Hall with the recitation rooms, by which classes can be simultaneously dismissed and recalled without delay.

The beautiful primary room, 41x20 feet, situated on the first floor, northwest corner of the building, is isolated from all other classrooms.

The Art Gallery consists of three rooms, each 40x20 feet, with large windows and lofty ceilings. The Laboratory is in the third story.

The music-rooms are in the third story, removed from the classrooms, so as not to interfere with the recitations.

The Home Department of the school, in the east wing of the building, entirely separated from the day school, is newly furnished to accommodate sixty boarding pupils.

Close attention has been given to sanitary laws. Every room has outward openings for light and air. The Lavatory contains bath rooms with hot and cold water.

An important feature in the construction of the new building relates to the preservation of the health of the pupils when well, and to provide for them every possible comfort and attention when sick. To this end every part of the building is kept perfectly comfortable in the coldest weather by the Bolton Hot Water Heater that is placed in every room and hall in the building. The pupils can pass to all recitation rooms, to dining room, study halls and music rooms, without exposure to draughts or to outdoor weather.

ENVIRONMENT.

With these enlarged facilities the Kate P. Nelson Seminary offers all the advantages and comforts that can be found in the more distant schools of the North and East, at a price much below these, though the cost to us is, perhaps, as great.

We ask the public in turn to consider our claim to home patronage, and the advantages brought to them. Not the least of these, to their daughters, are the associations formed with refined families of their own section. The Seminary is exclusively for girls, except in the Primary Department, where boys under ten years of age are received.

Those who know most about young ladies' schools and colleges are aware that no matter how excellent may be the advantages of the class room as to the various branches of modern female scholarship, still, unless a young lady is surrounded by an atmosphere of genuine refinement, and controlled by firm, yet kind discipline, that the damage is great; that the parent who ventures to send his daughter away from home and its salutary influences, will oftentimes deeply regret his rashness. Such wholesome and refining influences are of almost inestimable value in a girl's school, and the Principal of the Kate P. Nelson Seminary has had the experience of many years to aid her in carrying out successfully her plans for the development of all that is noble and womanly in those placed under her charge.

In all her work she asks the hearty co-operation of parents, and if she receives this she can promise the very best results.

RESUME.

In looking over the work of the past fifteen years, during which time the Seminary has grown from a small day school to a flourishing day and boarding school, we think we can candidly say that the methods adopted by us have proved not only acceptable, but beneficial to the community. And we are more and more convinced each year that no method is so conducive to the advancement of our girls as a school that is devoted exclusively to the interest of girls.

These years have not been barren of results. We have sent forth forty-nine bright, intelligent young girls, well equipped for life, several of whom have engaged at once in successful teaching. Five graduates of the Seminary are elected to be teachers in the public schools of Shreveport for the coming school year, and many others have received appointments as teachers throughout the State.

GENERAL NOTES.

It is to the interest of every pupil to enter at the beginning of the term, as a late admission throws one behind in her regular grade, and is a disadvantage to her the entire session.

All classes are required to stand written examinations, and the promotion of the pupil depends upon the result. No pupil can absent herself from examinations and be promoted. Examination papers are open to the inspection of visitors and patrons.

Boarding pupils are not allowed to spend the night out of the Seminary unless with their parents.

Letters will be sent to the parents quarterly in regard to the health and progress of their children.

Parents must furnish their daughters with money for books, sheet music and for other personal expenses, or remit for them in advance to the Principal.

Boxes of eatables will not be delivered to the pupils. Three hot meals a day are furnished them, and the table is supplied with an abundance of wholesome food, and we can not be responsible for the health of pupils who eat irregularly and without regard to diet.

No day pupil will be admitted to the students' rooms without permission from the Principal.

Pupils will receive visitors in the parlor or reception room only.

Visits can not be received by the pupils during school or study hours.

Pupils are not allowed to shop for themselves; all necessary purchases will be made for them with great care. Correspondence is restricted to the pupils' family, unless parents furnish the Principal with a list with whom their children may correspond. No letters can be received or mailed without passing through the hands of the Principal, who reserves the right to investigate all doubtful correspondence. Any day pupil will be suspended from school who conveys letters or notes to or from the boarding pupils.

Pupils must furnish towels, napkins, sheets, pillow-cases, mosquito bars, blankets and one rug. Each article must be plainly marked with the owner's name. Each pupil must also be supplied with overshoes, a gossamer and a small umbrella, Parents are requested not to furnish money to their children above their actual and necessary expenses, as we wish to inculcate the principles of economy. All moneys must pass from parents to children through the Principal.

Boarding pupils are required to study two hours in the morning before school, and one in the evening, unless there be special reason for excusing same.

The Governess takes charge of the pupils during study hours, and will direct and encourage thoroughness and application in their work.

Attendance at church and Sunday school is required; the parents or guardians will select the place of worship.

The discipline of the school is firm and decided, though mild and parental in its character. It requires punctuality of attendance upon all school duties and thoroughness of recitation, and the utmost propriety of deportment. The discipline of the school, as far as possible, is based on an appeal to the honor of the pupils.

Parents are urged to co-operate with the Teachers in all management of their children, and those who place their daughters or wards under our charge are expected to do so upon the conditions defined in the Catalogue.

Inexpensive dressing is advised, and in order to regulate this, the boarding pupils are required to wear a uniform on all public occasions. The color is garnet in winter, and white muslin in summer. If parents will correspond with us the 1st of October we will give explicit directions as to the pattern, which will be selected from the Delineator. Uniform hats by special order.

No deviation from these rules.

HEALTH OF PUPILS.

In no private household is there employed a closer or more intelligent supervision over the inmates than is here exercised over the health of the pupils. All are required to take regular exercise every day. Physical Culture and Free Gymnastics; and the building is surrounded by beautiful grounds where the pupils assemble several hours after school when the weather permits, in addition to occasional walks out of the Seminary grounds.

In cases of sickness the best medical aid is assured, and careful nursing given. Choice of physicians is left to the patrons. If this is not made known to the Principal, she will employ such advice as she deems best.

Not a single case of serious illness has ever occurred in the boarding department. The health of the household during the past year was most excellent. The serious illness of a pupil will be promptly communicated to her parents.

In regard to the healthfulness of Shreveport, Dr. A. A. Lyon, Health Officer, says: "From my professional experience and observations, as well as from the date at my command, I hesitate not to say that I regard Shreveport, in point of health, equal to any city in the South."

PHYSICAL CULTURE.

In educating the mind, we should not forget to educate the body also; for a sound body and a sound mind generally accompany each other.

Feeling that Physical training is a necessary adjunct to the school, we have engaged a teacher of fine training to take charge of the class. The Jeanness-Miller and the Delsarte systems will be used. Special attention will be given to carriage and to the development and strengthening of the muscles and chest.

MUSIC, ELOCUTION, LANGUAGE AND ART.

Students are advised, for symmetrical development, to take one special study in addition to the regular course.

Those desiring to do so may receive instruction in any special department without being enrolled as students.

The steady increasing interest in Elocution shows that our work in this direction is thoroughly appreciated. The general class work includes lessons in the management of breath, exercise for expansion of the chest and increased lung power, and practice in vocal gymnastics. In private lessons the teacher sees the needs of individuals in a way that cannot be done in class work, and gives careful attention to faults and their cure. The principles underlying the work are illustrated in the rendering of selections from the best authors. Our public exercises in this direction are intended to show the value of such training.

In music, in addition to individual instruction, there will be classes in the study of theory, and recitals for practice from time to time for the education of taste and style.

Special attention will be given to the training of the voice. In addition to the regular work in sight-singing, there will be private lessons in voice culture by an accomplished teacher, who is to have charge of this department, and it is hoped that every pupil in the school of suitable age will take advantage of this opportunity to cultivate her voice for the purpose of adding to the happiness of her home.

The study of a language is advised, not only as a means of culture, but as an excellent mental discipline.

The Art facilities have grown with the years, and at present are of a superior character.

The studio has been furnished with a new and handsome set of casts and models, which will be added to from time to time.

Students are expected to pay special attention to blackboard drawing and drawing from nature.

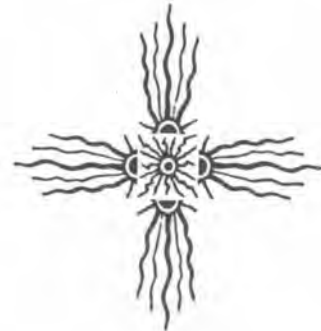

Every effort has been made to grade the work, thus insuring rapid advancement.

A personal interest is felt in each individual pupil, and all are taught as carefully and with as minute attention as if they are to become teachers and specialists in this department.

In these days of rapid advancement and brilliant progress, no education can be considered complete without at least some knowledge of drawing.

New and advanced methods have brought this delightful department of Art within the reach of everyone, and its influence is felt for good in every sphere of life. As for example, a girl who sews will be a far more skillful designer and fitter of dresses if she understands the correct principles of drawing and form. In all the walks of life the steady, trained hand and true eye of the girl trained in drawing will prove of untold value.

A MODEL SCHOOL.

Appeal-Avalanche, Memphis, Tenn.—Communicated.

DURING a short stay in Shreveport, that metropolis of North Louisiana, we had the pleasure of visiting one of the finest schools that it has ever seen. It has been our good fortune to see for many years. We refer to the flourishing Seminary of that well known and popular teacher Miss Kate P. Nelson, whose untiring efforts to raise the standard of education in her State, has won for her the esteem and admiration of a large circle of friends. The school is situated on the lower part of Texas Avenue, one of the highest and most healthful parts of Shreveport, and commands an extensive view of the surrounding country.

The building is very large, three stories high, and capable of accommodating comfortably sixty boarders. It is spacious and well ventilated and one could almost wish to be a school girl again to have the privilege of sleeping in one of those dainty white beds. Surely only sweet dreams could visit the young heads that nestle in those pretty little couches.

What a contrast to the olden times when the word boarding school was a synonym for every discomfort. Then ink-stained floors and cracked, discolored walls, were the order of the day. Now, these favored girls wander through lofty halls, whose snowy walls reflect the light pleasantly. Large, airy recitation rooms, furnished with every appliance of maps, globes, charts, et cetera, render the duties of both teacher and pupil less arduous. Comfortable seats, with desks of a suitable height, replace the hard benches of former times, so that now no girl need injure her figure and acquire a bad carriage by bending over her books.

The whole building is thoroughly heated by steam, and water is carried to every floor, furnishing an abundant supply to the bath rooms, which are one of the most attractive features of the establishment. Last, but not least, I must mention the delightful table, where most excellent food is supplied, and the meals are served not only with neatness, but even elegance. The lady who has charge of this department certainly has made house-keeping one of the fine arts.

A numerous corps of efficient teachers assist Miss Nelson in her labors, and she employs several specialists.

We spent two days in this charming institution, and were delighted with its management, which is more like that of a large, well ordered family than a mere boarding-school. When the shadows of day stole over the west, the stately Principal gathered pupils and teachers around her in one of the spacious halls, and with bowed and reverent head to God for His evening blessing, never did the songs of Israel's poet fall more sweetly on my ear.

VISITOR.

FROM THE PROGRESS.

On Texas Avenue, in the heart of our busy, little city of Shreveport, stands a monument to the magnificent courage and brainy nerve of a woman who has done more to elevate the standard of education in North Louisiana than any other woman. This monument, the Kate P. Nelson Seminary, is Shreveport's most distinguishing landmark—on the road of progressive education, and a mile-post whose index finger points to a graduation of the highest moral, as well as intellectual training. Its Principal and founder, Miss Kate Page Nelson, a member of the Nelson-Page family of Virginia, is a woman of peculiar strength of character. Running along the line of intellectuality, she is masculine in development, business capacity being unusually developed, having studied all branches, and everything that could bear upon progressive education, for she is an educator by nature. Along the lines of tenderness, sympathy, charity and refinement, she is very womanly indeed. Hers is not a character to be learned by a casual acquaintance, for the surface is deceptive, in that her habitual exercise of discipline, and dally manipulation of business details, rather conceal the depth of her noble womanliness. I have seen her life behind the scenes, have nursed dear ones with her in severe illness, through days and weeks of nervous anxiety; with her when the Angel of Death hovered over her home, and her dear old mother passed to the Better Land, and know the true inwardness of a heart that seeks to hide its noblest charities from the world. Miss Nelson began her career as a teacher in Shreveport in the fall of 1873, as Principal of the one public school here. At that time the public school system was in a rudimentary state, and great prejudice existed against it; indeed it was thought a degradation to patronize the public school. The revolutionary courage of Miss Nelson's ancestry stood her in good need at this crisis, and with the self-reliant energy so peculiar to her, she revised and improved this poor system, elevating both its standard and its standing. From an opening with perhaps fifty pupils, she, with two assistants, finished the first term with 175 in attendance. She taught here six years, giving the public schools in Shreveport an impetus upward and onward that has carried them to a position second to none in the State. After leaving the public school she taught a private school one year, and then conceived the idea of a Seminary, and so sprung into existence the Shreveport Seminary, chartered in 1880, and domiciled for nine years in the old "Battle House," on Edwards street, another educational landmark of Shreveport, having been some years previously the private school of Rev. J. Franklin Ford.

Always progressing and enlarging her work, Miss Nelson planned and accomplished the building of the handsome and complete edifice that now bears her name, and sends out of its doors each year an increasing number of young women bearing the impress of her individuality and influence upon characters, thoroughly trained to make the highest and best use of life's opportunities. In these years Miss Nelson has trained no less than one thousand and five hundred young ladies, which speaks whole volumes for her experience. She is very hard to please in the matter of assistants, as none but the most thorough and competent can satisfy her.

The present term she has in all thirteen teachers and professors—many of them specialists in their departments—and 225 pupils enrolled in English, Latin, French, German, Art, Music, Physical Culture and Elocution. These are taught in their highest perfection. There have been forty-nine graduates from this school; some of these have made successful teachers abroad, and five are teaching at present in the Shreveport public schools. Of those who passed through the State Normal School before entering upon duty as teachers, Prof. Boyd says:

"No college in the State has sent us better prepared students, or more exemplary pupils. They have never failed, I believe, to accomplish the difficult feat of entering the senior class, and completing the course the first year."

The home life of the Seminary is very beautiful. The comfort and affectionate regard is very like that of a large family. The interior of the building is much handsomer than the exterior, the comfort and health of the inmates having been considered paramount in every appointment.

Miss Nelson is better known by the results of her work than by personal prominence, for in her busy life she depends solely upon her own brain, and nerve, and energy, and has not the time, had she the inclination, for a multiplicity of occupations.

She has locally been represented as an enemy of public schools, but this is as false as it is unjust. Her ambition is to see the whole school system incorporated as a family, supporting and helping each other, but working first, last and all the time, for the highest development of education.

MYRNA.

PRIVATE SCHOOLS.

WHY THEY EXIST AND FLOURISH.

Extract from a paper by Thomas Cushing, of Chauncey Hall School, Boston, Mass.—New York School Journal.

When educational institutions, other than public, have existed among us for a long time, and show a tendency towards permanence and increasing success, it is fair to conclude that there must be some good reason for their existence. This is the present condition of private schools in our country, and it is the object of this paper to show the need and usefulness of them to round out a comprehensive system of education.

This may be done without derogating in the least from the great public school systems of education, which naturally include and provide for the great majority of our children. These are among the most remarkable developments of modern times and perform their allotted work, on the whole, nobly and successfully. But there must always be some cases that they do not cover to the best advantage.

The teachings and requisitions of the public schools must be founded on and adapted to the general average of ability of the children attending them. Nothing else could fairly be expected. The time of the teachers is fully occupied in directing the studies and getting the best results from those possessing this average ability. Their classes are large and every minute must be occupied in doing the best they can for them. This is what they are employed for, and this they must do. But a minute's reflection will show that this average ability does not include all the children needing education. Four other classes may be roughly mentioned, forming no inconsiderable proportion of the whole, viz: The extra bright and the extra dull children; the feeble in health or eyesight; and those who, from peculiar circumstances, have not had the usual early advantages. None of these classes of children can be taught to the best advantage in schools where the general average of intelligence and ability has to be chiefly regarded. The very bright and able can do much more than is required of them; but there is no time or opportunity to exact this of them, and they are consequently losing their time and ambition and are likely to acquire lazy and troublesome habits. The dull and slow, on the contrary, find themselves overburdened and are discouraged, and almost inevitably fall behind. The feeble in health find themselves in a similarly unfortunate condition, though from different causes. The public teacher is not to be blamed for this state of things, it is inherent in the system under which he is employed, and we have yet to look for a system which will obviate it. He will do all he can to remedy it, giving often largely of time that should be his own; but from the nature of the case, little can be done. Time is limited; so is human endurance, even a teacher's. The amount of time and attention bestowed on the children especially needing it must be slight and irregular; they become a burden to their respective classes and receive but a poor education.

Here is where the private school comes to the relief of those whose parents are able to take advantage of it, and, in these days, many are disposed to do so very liberally. Private schools are of different kinds. Sometimes, especially in large cities, very large private schools can be supported and are able to furnish a force of teachers large enough to provide for those needing special attention. When such a school has shown its ability to do this work, it attracts other pupils, without regard to any special needs, and with good accommodations and enlightened and liberal arrangements, it becomes a permanent educational institution. Permanence alone and a settled policy will of themselves continue to draw pupils, especially if a favorable impression of the character and ability of its principal teachers has been impressed upon the community. Most of our cities have schools of this description liberally maintained by their people, and not by any means confining their work to those especially needing it. Various influences co-operate with the original need of private schools to insure their success. I need only to mention the drawing power of companionship among the young, ideas of special refinement in language and manners supposed to prevail among their pupils, social advantages, whether real or imaginary, and many other considerations which influence people in their choice of residence and association. Want of space will not admit the further development of these influences, but they may easily be imagined.

Till very recently a new and important branch of education, the kindergarten, lying at the very foundation of all the rest, was entirely in private hands, not being recognized by those who directed our educational systems. It is still so maintained in the greater part of the country, though a few cities and towns of extraordinary enlightenment and liberality have adopted it as the foundation of their system. Large classes of devoted and enthusiastic young women are yearly preparing in private establishments for this service, which is becoming a large and important part of primary education. To speak of its usefulness does not seem necessary. Without enumerating various other kinds of private schools and teachers, it will be seen that the interest is a large one, and not likely to diminish. Too many men and women of character, talent and means are engaged in such schools to make their diminution at all probable. There is no real opposition between public and private schools and their respective teachers. On the contrary, they can be useful to each other in forming sound public opinion on educational subjects. Enlightened self-interest alone leads to the introduction of the best books, the best methods, the best school furniture and appliances into the private school, and thus opens the way for them into the public school, which has to wait for the slower movements of superintendents and committees. In point of fact, many of the progressive movements in education have originated with private teachers of original minds, who in trying to do the best possible thing for their own school, have opened the way for improvements into the schools at large, thus proving the advantage of union and sympathy among teachers in the general cause of education.

Individual Work in Private Schools.

Extract from a Paper by Julius Howard Pratt, Ph. D., Milwaukee Academy, Wis.—New York School Journal.

The number of the school should not be too large. It is a truism that, as Prof. Seymour of Yale, says, "When a youth is beyond the kindergarten age, he should have much of the teacher's time." Manifestly this is impossible where the pupils are many and the teachers few. The managers of the best private schools realize this requirement and strictly limit the number received. The danger is that the private school will be influenced by the strong current of public opinion, and in its feverish anxiety to increase the attendance, defeat the end for which it exists.

Education does not consist in the possession of a vast store of information, but in the ability to make the best use of the mental faculties. The formation then, of correct habits of study is of prime importance. The limited number of pupils and the constant supervision of the instructor should give the student in the private school an immense advantage. Here your proverbially slow boy has a chance. He is below the average of the ordinary class. In the large class there is no time for him. He must understand when the rest do, or else wearily plod on, with mind befogged, dimly apprehending, heartsick over his work, convinced of the utter unreasonableness of the matter before him and of schooling in general. For him, the patient instructor who will lead him through the intricacies of his task at his mental pace, makes possible activity and acquisition in a mind which would otherwise be paralyzed by a series of mental defects. The flexibility of the private school gives to the bright boy or girl too, an opportunity for rapid advancement which the rigidly graded system does not allow. In fact, the teacher here may, like the artisan of times gone by, exhibit a genius in molding the plastic matter in his hands. The condition, constitution and ability of each pupil should be the teacher's constant study, and each graduate should possess an individuality, the result of healthy development under wise direction.

To the private school belongs the work, upon which President Dwight lays such stress, of developing the whole nature and laying a broad foundation before permitting the specialization for which the spirit of the times calls. To know the secret spring of action in each pupil, to touch that spring and lead the awakened to effort and attainment, to lift the soul from the plane of material things and direct the attention to that which ennobles and refines, to teach the youth to make the most and best of the mental, moral and spiritual facilities with which nature has endowed him, is the work to which, more than any other agency outside the home, the private school is called.

Course of Study.

THE SEMINARY is vested with chartered rights; those pupils who will have accomplished the prescribed course of study will be entitled to receive diplomas of graduation. Certificates will also be conferred upon such as may have successfully pursued an Elective Course. Adult pupils will be admitted to the Studio, to the School of Music, or to pursue single studies in any department.

The course of study embraces the following schools:

1. School of English.
2. School of Mathematics.
3. School of Ancient and Modern History.
4. School of Natural Science.
5. School of Mental and Moral Science.

OPTIONAL.

6. School of Latin and Modern Languages.
7. School of Music and Art.
8. School of Elocution.
9. School of Physical Culture.
10. School of Business.

Primary Methods.

COURSE I.—The work of the first and second grades: (1) Reading, ideas developed with objects and pictures, sight reading; (2) Spelling by sounds and writing; (3) Language Lessons, use of correct sentences, short compositions on familiar objects; (4) Writing; (5) Numbers, use of objects and pictures; beginning to add, subtract, multiply, divide; (6) Calisthenics.

Freshman and Intermediate Department.

COURSE II.—The work of the third and fourth grade: (1) Reading, contents of lesson, reproduction exercises, conversation, paragraph studies and outline spelling, written and oral; (3) Language, Grammar, sentence making, letter writing; (4) Numbers, notation, numeration, fractions, problems; (5) Geography, object lessons, study of surroundings of States and of Counties; (6) Calisthenics.

I.

School of English Language and Literature.

SECOND SOPHOMORE.—Language Lessons, Letter Writing.

SOPHOMORE.—Grammar, Language Lessons, Letter Writing.

SECOND JUNIOR.—Course of Reading from American authors, Etymology, Grammar, Composition.

JUNIOR.—Course of Reading from English authors, Etymology, Higher English Lessons, Grammar, Composition.

SECOND SENIOR.—Rhetoric, English Classics, Composition, Grammar, (reviewed) by standard authors.

SENIOR.—English Synonyms, English and American Literature, Shakespearian Readings, English Classics, Essays.

II.

School of Mathematics.

SECOND SOPHOMORE.—Rudiments of Practical Arithmetic.

SECOND JUNIOR.—Practical Arithmetic, Intellectual Arithmetic.

JUNIOR.—Algebra, Higher Arithmetic, Intellectual Arithmetic.

SECOND SENIOR.—Higher Algebra, Plane Geometry—Seven Books.

SENIOR.—First Term: Plane and Solid Geometry, complete.

SECOND TERM.—Plane and Spherical Trigonometry, complete.

III.

School of Ancient and Modern History—School of Natural History

SECOND SOPHOMORE.—Historical Readings, Geography.

SOPHOMORE.—Historical Readings, History of the United States, Intermediate Geography.

SECOND JUNIOR.—Historical Readings, History of Louisiana, Grammar School Geography, Natural History.

JUNIOR.—History of United States (Advanced), Mythology.

SECOND SENIOR.—Ancient and Modern History.

SENIOR.—Constitution of the United States, History of Art.

IV.

SECOND JUNIOR.—Hygiene.

JUNIOR.—Physiology, Botany.

SECOND SENIOR.—Physical Geography, Natural Philosophy (with apparatus).

SENIOR.—Astronomy, Chemistry, Geology.

VI.

School of Latin and Modern Languages.

I. LATIN.—Beginner's Course. Text books: Collar and Daniel's beginner's Latin book. Careful drill in the forms and in the most common principals of Syntax.

II. TEXT BOOKS.—Allen and Greenough's Cæsar and Gildersleeve's Latin Grammar. Much attention is given to syntax. Latin Reader, Arnold's Prose Compositions.

CÆSAR.—Four books; Horace—Odes and Epistles; Cicero—Orations.

I. FRENCH.—Beginners' Class: Edgren's French Grammar—Part I.

II. Advanced Class—Fasquelle's Course.

I. GERMAN.—Beginner's Class: Faulhaber's "One Year Course" will be used. Class will read selections given in this work.

II. Advanced Class—Translation and Interpretation: Schiller's "Junfrau von Orleans," or Sessing's "Minna von Barnhelm" will be the principal topic of study.

VII.

School of Music.

I. SOLFEGGIO—Class No. 1: The elementary principles of music sight-singing and light ensemble singing.

Class No. 2: The theory of music and more advanced ensemble singing.

Authorities: Danhauser's Theory of Music, Rudolphe's Solfege.

II. VOCAL—Voices will be cultivated under the most approved methods: Bassini, Garcia, Panzeron.

III. INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC—Etudes, Czerny, Moschelles, Chopin, Scales, Chords and Æpeggios in all the major and minor keys; Musical Literature.

VIII.

School of Business.

Stenography, Type-Writing, Book-Keeping.

I. REGULAR ART COURSE—(1.) Open Air Work: Sketching from nature in pencils and water colors, pastels and oils. (2.) Studio work and painting from still life. Decorative work. Repousse work. Lavantline and Coraline work. Special perspective designing.

The above course of study has been carefully planned with a view to symmetrical development of the powers and faculties. To secure this the pupil must be surrounded by all the conditions necessary to health, comfort, cheerfulness and refining influences.

The school is furnished with Terrestrial and Astronomical Globes, and Physiological Charts. A Physical and Chemical Apparatus will be provided during the coming year, it being added to from time to time.

With such aids to study, the pupils must advance rapidly, and the teacher's work expedited an hundred fold.

POST GRADUATE COURSE.

We have provided a Post Graduate Course for those who, having completed the regular curriculum, desire to pursue one or more lines of study.

The Course is selected from the schools of Art, Music, English, Elocution, Language, Mathematics, and Business. Those completing the Post Graduate studies will receive a special diploma in that course.

Post Graduates who board in the Seminary will be required to comply with the rules that govern the pupils generally: To be prompt at prayers and meals, and to receive permission from the proper authority to visit or to leave the Seminary on any business.

They will be allowed to receive company one evening in every week, and to attend private and public entertainments at the discretion of the Principal.

EXAMINATIONS.

Written examinations are conducted at the close of each quarter session—especially during the last quarter of the ten months. On the general thoroughness of these examinations, advancement to a higher grade is made. No Student can absent herself from examinations and be promoted. Examination papers are open to inspection of visitors and patrons. Oral examinations are adhered to when the teacher wishes to lead the pupils to quick perception of the principles involved, and to cultivate a conversational readiness in answers.

SUMMARY.

In English, Latin, French, German, Mathematics, Elocution, Physical Culture, Music, Art, Stenography, Type-Writing, and Book-Keeping, an able corps of teachers has been engaged for the coming year.

The Faculty is composed of wide-awake, active, energetic and progressive teachers, who are constantly studying, learning and adopting the best methods. The classroom is alive with busy workers, and the course is an excellent training in work and ideas for those who contemplate teaching as a life profession. From the Primary to the Senior classes, every department is complete.

With the enlarged facilities of the new building, we are enabled to do most efficient work in every department of the school.

The same Faculty as last session has been secured for the coming year, with the exception of two added teachers—Miss Anita Marburg and Miss Delle Mulhaupt. } }

Miss Marburg was, for several years, associated with the Principal as her pupil, and always won the highest class distinctions. It is with peculiar pride that the Principal invites attention to the relations which Miss Marburg will sustain to the Seminary and its patronage in the future.

Miss Mulhaupt, also a former pupil, has perfected herself in a business education, and comes before the Shreveport public highly recommended as a teacher in Stenography, Type-Writing and Book-Keeping.

Expenses.

The school year is divided into two terms, twenty weeks each.

Board, including fuel, light and English tuition, per term, (20 weeks)	$100 00
Primary Department, per month	3 00
Advanced Department, per month	5 00
Vocalization, per month	5 00
Instrumental Music, Piano, Organ, Violin, Cornet, Guitar, Mandolin, Zither, per month	5 00
Practicing on Piano, per month	1 00
Modern Languages, each, per month	2 00
Painting or Pastel, per month	5 00
Drawing, per month	2 00
Elocution in Class, by special teacher, per month	2 00
Elocution, individual lessons, by special teacher, per month	5 00
Solfeggio, per month	1 00
Stenography, individual lessons, per month	5 00
Stenography, in class, per month	3 75
Type-Writing, per month	2 00
Diploma, fee	5 00
Incidental expenses, per session of five months	1 00
Physical Culture, per month	2 00

No extra charge for Latin.

From the above you can see that for $200 per annum a pupil may enjoy:

1. Full course in English, Latin, Natural Science, with Chemical and Physical Apparatus, Mental and Moral Science, Mathematics.
2. Board, lights, fuel, and all the comforts and conveniences of an elegant new building, newly furnished, heated by register, and lighted by gas. Lavatory attached, with bath-rooms—hot and cold water.

Ten dollars per ten months will be charged in addition to this for pupils occupying rooms instead of dormitories.

Ten dollars per ten months will be charged for laundry, or the pupil may make her own arrangement for same.

We believe nowhere in the South can equal advantages be secured with so small an outlay. Our charges are as low as they can be made, considering the advantages of the school. Those of the same grade in Tennessee and Virginia make their prices double that of ours. But we do not compete with cheap schools, which, by employing inferior teachers, reduce the cost to a very low figure.

No extra charge for callisthenics, which will be taught the primary class only.

Pupils tardy in entering the first month of school will be charged for the full month.

Pupils entering after the first month, will be charged from date of entrance to close of five month's term.

No deductions will be made for absence or withdrawal, except in cases of protracted sickness or removal, when such a discount will be made as in the nature of the case seems just.

Pupils must furnish their own typewriter for lessons and practice.

To partly cover the cost of fuel, and janitor's services, an incidental fee of $1.00 is charged for each five months.

Boarding pupils must pay quarterly in advance. Day pupils—at the close of each scholastic month. Money not paid when due, interest will be added. When it is necessary to place accounts in the hands of a collector, the commission will be added.

No diploma will be awarded to pupils who are in arrears for tuition.

Five scholarships will be sold to pupils at 10 per cent discount on catalogue prices, if they will pay for board and tuition ten months in advance.

AUTHOR: Sarah G. Cox Sands
1213 N. Main St.
Sweetwater, Tenn. 37874
PRICE: $18.68 plus
$1.32 postage

Vol. II of History of Monroe County, Tenn. covers the history of Education and Schools, Communications and the Postal Service from 1819 to 1979.

There is a complete history of all schools, colleges and libraries in the county - how they began, progress and changes that have been made. The same is true of the history of the post offices in the county and of the telephone, radio and newspapers of Monroe county.

It is not a genealogical or folk history, and family data has only been used incidentally and where they were pertinent to the subject.

TITLE: THE LEEDOM FAMILY
AUTHOR: Sarah Ann Leedom Eachus PRICE: $20.00
ORDER FROM: Darrance & Company, Publishers
828 Lancaster Ave.
Bryn Mawr, PA 19010

The Leedom Family is the result of a thorough genealogical research by Sarah Ann Leedom Eachus into the background of a family who first reached America's shores in 1712 at Philadelphia. One branch, the descendants of Richard, the Immigrant, took up residence in Bucks County, PA on a part of William Penn's original land grant from Charles II. They became active and contributing members of the Quaker community there, and many of their descendants are still prominently involved in its affairs.

A second branch, the line of "Irish" John Leedom, so-called because he was born in Ireland of English parents, struck out to tame the west. Arriving first in the Redstone Country, in what is now western Pennsylvania, they found themselves in the midst of the French and Indian War. Later traveling by flat boat down the Ohio River, William Leedom, John's son, helped to settle Adams County, Ohio.

The author traces the lines of these original settlers to the present day in most cases. The book contains many rare photographs and excerpts from old letters, records, and out of print publications, all of which make it interesting, not only to family descendants but to general history buffs as well. 6 X 9 - hard back - 278 pages - indexed.

TITLE: ROSE - STEELE ANTHOLOGY
BY: Ben L. Rose
1221 Rennie Ave.
Richmond, Va. 23227

The author published "Alexander Rose of Person County, North Carolina and His Descendants" in 1979, in which he dealt only with his Rose ancestors and not with any other forbears. In this volume he gathered information on all the ancestors of his grandparents, George McNeill Rose and his wife, Augusta Jane (Steel) Rose.

Sketches of the ancestors of George McNeill Rose were on Kirkland, Lea, McAden, and McNeill and those on ancestors of Augusta Jane Steel were Blake, Daniel, Hall and Steel.

He also presents the Genealogies of the Lea, McAden, McNeill and Kirkland Families compiled by Thomas Duncan Rose ca 1954, Genealogy of the Lea Family of Caswell County, N.C. compiled by Miss Wilhelmina Lea in 1903, the Descendants of John Scott, History of the Sixty Sixth Regiment of North Carolina Troops by George M. Rose, Adjutant and Alexander Rose, officer in the Revolution by Ben L. Rose. There is a Report of Research done by Debrett Ancestry Research of Winchester England for Ben L. Rose on the Rose Family of Invernesshire Scotland and Person County, N.C. and Records from two old Kirkland Bibles. 6 X 9 - hardback - 201 pages - indexed.

The Maxeys of Virginia is a genealogical history of the descendants of

BOOK REVIEWS

Edward and Susannah Maxey, who died in the early 1740's in Goochland Co., VA. They have descendants today in virtually every state. This volume contains 848 fully annotated biographical sketches and a double index of some 17,000 names of Maxeys (including the several spellings) and allied families. The book is sectioned according to lines instead of chapters - each line headed by one of the progenitors eight children. The descendants of these are traced as far as possible to a living generation. The book is well documented with deeds, wills, letters and other documents, and credit is given in footnotes to all sources, including contributors. A bibliography and list of subscribers are included. 7 X 10 - hardback - 984 pages - indexed.

TITLE: ABSTRACTS OF DEATH NOTICES FROM THE MACON BEACON (MACON, MISS.)
1871 - 1912

COMPILED BY: E. Q. Richards
Rt. 4, Box 81
Macon, Miss. 39341

PRICE: $8.00 Postpaid

The abstracts of death notices are from the preserved copies of the Macon Beacon, which are in the office of the Chancery Clerk of Noxubee County, Miss. Issues for several years are missing and many years whose copies are bound are short a number of weekly issues.

Some deaths which occurred in counties adjoining Noxubee County were reported. Many people from this section of Mississippi settled in North Louisiana, south Arkansas, and east Texas, and the author hopes this book will be of interest to many of them and their descendants. 8 X 11 - soft cover - 70 pages - indexed.

BOOK REVIEWS

Tracing one's ancestors is made a great deal more difficult if they originated in another country. Many people in America, and in Britain too, find themselves in such a position and Worldwide Family History was published to make their task easier.

The first part deals with the political and linguistic structure of Europe and includes chapters on genealogy in all European countries. The second part deals with colonial shipping in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, the settlement of the Americas (including chapters on Spanish, Italian, Polish, German, French and Slav emigrants) and a record of the early settlement of Europeans in Australia, South Africa and New Zealand. There is also a chapter on heraldry to aid in genealogical research. 6¼ X 9 - hardback - cloth - 230 pages - indexed.

TITLE: CHOCTAW COUNTY CHRONICLES - A HISTORY OF CHOCTAW COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI 1830 - 1973
BY: JAMES P. COLEMAN PRICE: $15.00
ORDER FROM: The Reprint Company, Publishers Plus $1.25 Postage
P. O. Box 5401
Spartanburg, S.C. 29304

When first established in 1833 from Chickasaw Cession lands, Choctaw County had a land area of over one thousand square miles; today only 306 of these are still in the county to which have been added 108 square miles from Winston County in 1874. All of present-day Webster County and half of Montgomery County were formed from Choctaw.

This history of Choctaw begins with her earliest settlers - the Choctaw Indians - and traces the county's growth through various stages in the history of Mississippi and the Nation into the 1970's. Written by a native son, various chapters are devoted to the cultural, political, religious, military and economic aspects of the region; and it is full of descriptions of life in Choctaw County during the various eras of her history.

Courthouse fires have three times destroyed many of the County's records. This volume piecés together much genealogical data in the form of Military lists, political returns, personal recollections, lists of various county leaders, biographical sketches of various individuals and families, brief sketches of the churches in the county and chronological accounts of important events through the decades of history.

TITLE: RISE UP SO EARLY - A HISTORY OF FLORENCE COUNTY, SOUTH CAROLINA
BY: G. Wayne King
ORDER FROM: The Reprint Company, Publishers
P. O. Box 5401
Spartanburg, S.C. 29304

Located between the Great Pee Dee and Lynches River in the Middle Coastal Plain of South Carolina, the area which forms present-day Florence County is the subject of this history by G. Wayne King, professor of history at Francis Marion College.

Beginning with the settlement of the area around 1735 by Welsh Immigrants from Pennsylvania, the book moves quickly to a discussion of the Revolutionary exploits of Francis Marion, whose headquarters were on Snow's Island, at the confluence of the two rivers.

BOOK REVIEWS

The most important post-Revolutionary development was the coming of the railroad in 1846, an event which literally created the community of Florence. The growth and progress of the railroad center was only temporarily interrupted by the Civil War, during which Florence was the location of a stockade for Union prisoners.

After the war, Florence turned its attention to becoming a port of the New South. The county of Florence was created in 1888 from Marion, Darlington and Williamsburg counties. The subsequent history of Florence is one of progress and development in many areas.

The Spanish-American War, the Progressive era of World War I, the Great Depression, the New Deal and World War II are treated as separate chapters as milestones in the last hundred years of Florence County's History.

The Appendix to this volume features a long list of County officers from 1888 to present and includes other lists of members of organizations, veterans and officials.

6½ X 9 ¼ - hardback - 452 pages plus appendix - Index.

This third consolidated index to the South Carolina Historical Magazine is intended to make information from several sources more readily accessible. Index entries for the following sources are included:

(1) Volumes 71-81 of this Magazine. This index begins with Volume 71 (1970) because entries for this volume were inadvertently omitted from the second consolidated index (South Carolina Historical Magazine Index XLI - LXXI 1940-1970, published in 1977.)

(2) The South Carolina Historical Society Manuscript Guide by David Moltke - Hansen and Sallie Dascher. The guide was issued as a supplement to Volume 80, Numbers 3, of the Magazine (July 1979). Manuscripts acquired during 1979 and during the first half of 1980 are also included because they were published in Volumes 80 and 81 of the Magazine.

(3) The additions and corrections which form Part II of this volume and which refer largely to the South Carolina Historical and Genealogical Magazine, Volume 1-53 (Jan 1900 - Jan 1952). A relatively small number of additions and corrections are also appended for the South Carolina Historical Magazine, Volumes 53-81 (1952-1980).

BOOK REVIEWS

(4) Entries for some sections of this Magazine prepared by the South Carolina Department of Archives & History and not previously indexed. In addition, the entirely separate index to ship registers in the archives (Volume 74, pages 280-299) is incorporated.

When used in conjunction with the two previously published volumes, these three indexes give a consolidated index to the volumes of the South Carolina Historical & Genealogical Magazine which have been published between 1900 and 1980. The first two volumes are still available; South Carolina Historical Magazine Index I - XL 1900-1939 (Vol. I - 737 pages - paper - $25.00) and South Carolina Historical Magazine Index XLI - LXXI 1940-1970 (Vol. II - 474 pages, paper, $20.00.

Spartanburg, S.C. 29304

PRICE: $20.00 plus

Fairfield is one of the three or four counties in South Carolina which have been from early days outstanding and interesting because of the large numbers of distinguished people produced and the distinctive culture developed. In Fairfield County and in Winnsboro, its county seat, this eminence is perhaps the result of blending of settlers from the Up-country and the Low Country. The history of this interesting and unusual county is told in "Through the Years In Old Winnsboro" not in statistics lists or documents, but through personal recollections and reminiscences of a beloved Winnsboro citizen and teacher. People, places, and events are described in an informal and conversational style from the first chapter "I come to Winnsboro", through the author's interesting and useful life to the last chapter, "In the Gloaming".

The foreword by native Chapman J. Milling describes the book in this way; "You are introduced to the great families of Winnsboro, yet the humble are not neglected. You thrill with the dashing young Confederates off to join Marse Robert and you hear the ominous tramp of a victorious enemy. You smile often at the amusing incidents and anecdotes so naturally told; but as often again, you find yourself fighting back a tear. You will come away better for having participated in this experience."

Especially the informal style and personal flavor, this book contains much genealogical information. 6½ X 9 - hardback - 258 pages - indexed.

TITLE: ABSTRACTS OF COLONIAL WILLS OF THE STATE OF GEORGIA 1773-1777

Because so many of Georgia's Colonial records have been irretrievably lost, the student of her Colonial past struggles under the difficulty of not having access to a complete file of Colonial archives.

This volume contains over 400 abstracts of Colonial Will Books A and AA and loose wills held by the Department of Archives and History and the University of Georgia. They contain pertinent genealogical information and they also reflect the social customs and economic trends of this day.

The wills abstracted here once spent over twenty years in the Tower of London and were retrieved partly because of the vision of Georgia Governor James Jackson in partial response to land claims made by George Galphin, and Indian trader. Book B of Georgia Colonial Wills has never been found. Will books A and AA cover English probates from Nov. 25, 1754 to July 30, 1772, and American probates from Aug. 22, 1776 to April 16, 1777.

The Colonial loose wills cover the period 1733 through 1777. This reprint of a 1961 edition also includes a name index not in the first edition. 6 1/4 X 9 1/2 - hard cover - 182 pages - indexed.

This volume contains abstracts of marriage and death notices from all York (or Yorkville) newspapers which could be located. An unusual feature of this book is the fact that the Yorkville Enquirer has extant a complete file of newspapers for the period of the Confederate War, a time when few newspapers continued to publish. The obituaries of people who died during the war are particularly important.

The newspapers in this volume contain marriage and death notices not only from the York, but also from nearby South Carolina districts Union, Spartanburg, Lancaster and Chester, and from Cleveland, Gaston and Mecklenburg counties in North Carolina.

In addition to the Yorkville Enquirer, which is most complete, newspapers in this volume include: The Pioneer. The Pioneer and South Carolina Whig,

Because of the many records of the NASH FAMILY in Miss. and Louisiana it will be impossible for me to include all of them, so I will finish this series in January 1983. I want to do more research in Louisiana, including cemeteries in Rapides, Vernon and St. Landry.

There is one cemetery in Vernon Parish, La., approximately 15 miles east of Leesville close to Walnut Hill Cemetery which was established on land that once belonged James Groves and his wife, Mary Nash. The name of the cemetery is Glass Window Cemetery. I am sure there is a story back of that name. At any rate there are members of the THOMAS NASH Family buried there. Some names of persons buried there are: BENNETT, BRYANT, BYNOG, GROVES, HAGAN, HALL, MAYO, NELSON, PARKER, PERKINS, SWEAT, WEEKS, WISE. Probably the first people buried in the Glass Window Cemetery were participants of THE RAWHIDE FIGHT which reportedly took place in the early 1850's, as reported in the LEESVILLE LEADER around 1955. There were 6 persons killed and many wounded, and the fight probably started over the burning of the school house.

It is not unusual to find the same families who intermarried with the NASH Family in North Carolina as neighbors in Miss. and La. The GROVE, as well as the CONERLY families are closely related, both coming from North Carolina into Miss. very early. In fact, Luke Conerly, who wrote the History of Pike County, Miss. also moved to Vernon Parish, La. as did THOMAS NASH and many others who once lived in PIKE, AMITE, ADAMS and JEFFERSON counties, Miss.

There is much history involved in tracing the history as well as migration of these people, but it is so interesting to attempt it. First we start in North Carolina, then you have to determine whether or not your people went to S.C., Ga., Ala., before coming on to Miss. Since THOMAS NASH was born about 1760 in N.C., appeared on 1850 Census Natchitoches Parish, La. age 90. We know some of his children were born in Miss., and as there was a THOMAS NASH in Ga. 1782, and a THOMAS NASH in Miss. by 1790, we must determine whether or not it is the same man. I hope to do this by January 1983.
