THE GENIE

The Genie is published quarterly. All members receive four issues for each year of membership. All material published in The Genie is compiled and contributed by our members. Queries are published free. Membership is not a requirement. Review of books are printed as time and space permits. Following review all books donated are placed on the shelves of the lending library of the Ark-La-Tex Genealogical Association. The Genie invites exchange of periodicals with other genealogical-historical organizations publishing data of general interest. We regret that we cannot exchange with limited family organizations, but invite them to send samples of their publications for a brief review since many of these family organizations are of a great value in information on the families covered by them.

All members of The Genie staff are volunteers.

PRESIDENT'S PAGE

Dear Friends:

This is the time of year when we close down the garden, rake leaves for the compost heap, sit back for a few days and enjoy the harvest moon. Here in the Ark-La-Tex the frost has not been on the pumpkin yet-but it cannot be far off.

This year is election time for all the officers. The nominating committee will be chosen at the November meeting. The candidates will be selected and the slate presented and voted upon at the December meeting. We have no mechanism for a mail ballot, so be present at the December meeting. We want participation of all members. To best serve the needs of our membership, we need your ideas for future programs and those areas of research you would like covered in The Genie.

The committee chaired by Jeanie Boyett is planning a very special program for our December 13 meeting. We will celebrate the Ark-La-Tex Genealogical Association's 30th year as a society. We invite all our members and friends to come to the Werner Park Memorial Building and renew old friendships and rekindle our enthusiasm for the past.

Our November 8 meeting will be presented by J. Dwight Jackson. His presentation will help you to understand the computer capabilities in organizing your data in a form you can retrieve.

The Book Fair enabled us to present 96 books to the Shreve Memorial Library this year. We appreciate the fine support you have given Joyce Bridges in this project.

The mini-classes planned by Veda Thornhill started in September with a crowd that used all the available chairs at Werner Park Memorial Building. They have been well received by our prospective members. The class has been starting at 2:00 P. M. and lasts approximately 30 minutes. It covers the basic forms and storing of information. The regularly scheduled meeting follows at 3:00 P. M.

May you all have a pleasant Holiday Season. This is the time of year for family gatherings.

Marguerite Loftin

EMA LEE ETHEREDGE TIPTON

This issue of "The Genie" is dedicated to the memory of Ema Lee Etheredge Tipton who served as its editor from 1970 through 1974. Long a member of the Ark-La-Tex Genealogical Association she not only served as the quarterly editor but authored many articles and bulletins and was co-author of her family history. She was also an able assistant to her husband, who served the organization as president from 1969 through 1972.

Mrs. Tipton died 8 April 1986 after a lengthy illness. She was born 27 October 1908 in Fort Jessup, Sabine Parish, La. and grew up in Leesville and Mansfield. Her parents were Arthur Leroy and Rosa Vaught Etheredge. On 28 June 1936 she married Ennis Mayfield Tipton and they missed by only three months celebrating their golden wedding anniversary.

We are, in this issue, reprinting one of many fine articles she wrote concerning genealogy.

SHARE YOUR RECORDS WITH OTHERS

Essie Lee Tipton

"Give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, --" Luke 6:38

This ancient truth should be heeded by every genealogist, professional and amateur alike. If you think that you have invested too much time, work and money in collecting your family records to share them with anyone else, then think again. You are like the man who hid the one talent he received for fear of losing it instead of investing it for an increase, then had it taken from him; or the man who hid his light under a bushel rather than let it guide some stranger on the road, then stumbled in the dark and broke his own neck. I may not be quoting this exactly right, but that's how I remember it.

You've read and heard many experts urge you to share your records with others and they have stated it far better than I could ever do, but it needs repeating over and over again. Many of you already know the value of sharing records, and those who do not know or believe in it will probably be very bored with what I have to say, but I must say it - the only way I know - from my own experiences.

If you hide your family records away in some dark secret place, you are cheating yourself. If you refuse to take time to help someone else get started with their research or to share what you have learned with others, you will lose far more time than you could ever hope to gain. If I tried that with my records, I'm almost sure all my ancestors would rise up out of the file cabinets, give me a tongue lashing I'd never forget, then take up residence with some of my happy-go-lucky relatives who never think of doing one bit of research, but wait with eager hands outstretched for every scrap of information I find as soon as I find it. Don't you have relatives like that? I thought everyone did.

I'm no sweet sentimental Pollyanna or sanctimonious self-sacrificing Do-Gooder. In fact, I'm just naturally as arrogant, prejudiced, cantankerous and selfish as can be, but I do know what is worth having and doing, and being stingy with my family records would destroy me. The research would not be worth doing and would become only dull drudgery instead of the real pleasure it now is. If I had gained nothing except hundreds of newly found relatives and friends in many places within the past few years, I would be more than overpaid for the little time I have given to sharing information with others.

However, I have never given one minute of time or one brief bit of information to anyone without it coming back to me multiplied many times over - not always from the one I tried to help, but in some way, from some source. I've done ten times more research on collateral lines of our families than on our own direct lines, but as a result have received far more than I ever gave, or could have ever hoped to find alone, on the very people I was most interested in. I don't think this is pure blind luck. The fact that I've been able to locate so many old records and have a husband who supports me in everything I try to do - even does much of the actual research himself - does not entitle me to keep all this information to myself, for myself alone.

Beginning my research in the prescribed manner, I wrote to every relative I could locate for any information they could send me. Many letters were unanswered. Some sent back short sarcastic comments but no information. Some wrote, "How nice of you to do this. Let me know when you dig up a rich famous ancestor for us." Only a few bothered to send any information at all, but one or two were eager to help. These first few months of trying to learn something about my families by correspondence were filled with bitter disappointment and I was about ready to take up fruit jar collecting when things began to improve.

The trouble was that I had been interested only in what I wanted, offered nothing in return, and didn't even know what I was doing wrong. This experience has affected my entire approach to research. I do little research by correspondence, but traipse off to distant courthouses and archives to collect the records rather than ask someone else to do it for me. I've had little success publishing or answering inquiries in magazines, seldom initiate correspondence any more, and have almost worn out a $1 bill sending it back to the National Archives for records I never receive. As an inquirer, I'm almost a total failure, but answering requests for information usually turns out fine.

It doesn't take long for correspondence on any family, no matter how brief, to get passed around. Someone will tell someone else, they will tell another, and then somehow, somewhere, it may be picked up by a contact who can furnish old records that you would find nowhere else in all the world. There is an invisible, but very effective grapevine communications system in genealogical circles. Drop a small pebble into a pond and watch the ripples grow and spread. That's how it is with helping others and sharing your family records. However, I'm not at all sure it will work if you do it only for what you expect to get from it. I suspect that you have to be sincerely interested in what the other person needs, even more than in what you want, and truly feel this in your heart to have it be successful.

We had barely scratched the surface on the Tipton family when we received a letter about them from a lady in southeast Mississippi. On our next trip to Baton Rouge, we drove over to see her, taking our pitiful thin little folder of data with us. A few weeks later a large collection of information arrived from southwest Texas, then another from California, later 31 zeroxed pages from Kansas, and soon after, 2500 typed pages of priceless records sent from Montana by a man whose father had done research on this family for over forty years. All we did was answer a few letters and share the meager bit we had with others - so meager we were ashamed of our ignorance. We expected nothing in return except perhaps a few suggestions on how to begin our search. This may seem unusual, but it is true.

On our first trip to Alabama, I called a lady whom I thought may help me with my family, but she insisted we couldn't be related because we didn't spell our names the same. This was my first research trip. I didn't even know my great-grandfather's first name, could barely get inside the doors of a library or courthouse, and felt lost. Rebuffs and disappointments were hard to take, so I just sat down and wept in anger and frustration, vowing I'd never bother with that stupid family again as long as I lived. Six months later, happily engrossed with the Tiptons, I received a letter from a lady in Texas, saying that her cousin in Alabama now thought we may be related after all and they wanted to know more about the family. I answered the letter, still determined not to get involved with that bunch of screw-balls who couldn't spell their own name. After several more letters from this lady, filled with a confusion of names, dates and places, I began to worry about how badly she had things mixed up, and because she was so eager to get her family records in order, I found myself, against my will, wanting to help her any way I could, although I knew it would be just one big stupid mistake, or worse.

Getting involved with this family is the happiest "mistake" I ever made. They are most charming, friendly, gracious, helpful and numerous, scattered all over the south and southwest, delighted to have a part in compiling the family history. Records have poured in from everywhere, most of them amazingly accurate, some go back almost 200 years. About all I have to do is the technical research, check them out, and fill in missing details. Again, all because I took time to share the little I knew with others, and wasn't too eager to do that.

Don't go about your research like an old mule with blinders on, braying loudly, "This is mine, and I don't have time." Answer every inquiry you receive, even if only to say, "Sorry, I don't know." I'm provoked when someone writes for all the data we have on one of our surnames, sends no identifying clues, and doesn't even enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope. I may be slow to reply but eventually get around to it. Some of the most unlikely, unpromising, seemingly unrelated inquirers have turned out to have records that I need badly. Sometimes the ones I take the most time to help don't even write back to say "Thank you." Sometimes they write back suggesting I'm as nutty as a pecan orchard and don't know what I'm talking about. Sometimes what they send fits nothing that I have, then a year or two later, everything falls into place. Sometimes nothing happens, but sometimes bells ring from Virginia to California, then being so far behind I'm still using last year's calendar seems very worthwhile after all.

It is very easy to become too busy, too involved, too absorbed in our own problems for our own good. This realization hit home with a bang recently and made me take a long hard look at the narrow-minded short-sightedness that had crept up on me while I had my nose glued to a grindstone, blinded by its dust.

Last summer a young lady wrote that her husband did not spell his name the same as mine, his family did not claim kin with those of different spellings in their area, that they knew nothing past his grandfather, but she wanted to collect the family records for her children and would appreciate any help I could give her. Reference to this troublesome name spelling was the wrong approach. I sputtered for a week, then sent her several pages of suggestions, clues and instructions, plus a few records and some standard record forms, thinking, "That is that! A pure waste of time! She is so prejudiced she will never see the forest for the trees, although she lives in the middle of the big woods!" It was I who was prejudiced, but I couldn't see that then.

A month later I received a batch of closely typed pages from her, glanced over the first page of recent data, assumed the rest was the same, put the material in the envelope to read when I had more time, and forgot it. Recently, the envelope turned up and was put in the "Miscellaneous" drawer when I decided to take a fast look - and almost fell out of my chair! It contained four generations of a family I was searching desperately to find, down to the last infant only a few months old, births, deaths, marriages, individual family groups and all! I hastened to send the writer four more generations of her husband's family, so ashamed of myself I didn't even try to explain the year's delay.

To be guilty of such carelessness and neglect is unforgiveable. I was relieved to learn what I had done had not discouraged her forever from continuing her interest in genealogy. This is probably the greatest risk we run in not helping those who write to us for information. Those of us who have the privilege of collecting great masses of information also have the responsibility of sharing it with others who need it. This often involves a great deal of work, but if you can't swim, you had better stay out of deep water, and in the field of genealogy, you are very rarely able to "touch bottom." Family records, no matter whose, are important to me, and I believe with all my heart that sharing information is the most important part of any research on any family.

If you are hoarding your family records, hoping to make a lot of money by publishing them, quit dreaming. By all means, publish your records, even if only a few typed copies fastened in file folders, but not for profit. You may break even on the cost of compiling and printing them, but you won't get rich by it. Compiling family records should be a way of living, not a way to make a living. Don't keep your records hidden away. Share them with those who need them, any way you can, by publication or free copies, bits and pieces, or complete sets of records. This takes time - time most of us don't have, but can find if we try. It may mean turning off the TV, staying up a little later at night, and organizing our work a little better, but it will be worth all we put into it - not only to ourselves and those directly concerned, but to the whole great overall purpose of genealogical research. Many of the priceless records in great archives throughout the world were collected and placed there by individuals just like us - dedicated people who were willing to share their records with others.

HOLIDAYS

The Shreve Memorial Library Genealogy Department has seen quite a few changes in the last few weeks. On August 1, Mignon Morse started as the new department head.

In September, the department received new shelving. This will allow room for expansion in the future. In addition, the department will also be receiving microfilm cabinets in the later part of 1987.

Frequent donations from individuals and organizations are greatly appreciated by the genealogy department. In the month of September, the following donations were made:

Microfilm listing of the Oklahoma Historical Society and Index to Indian Territory citizens.

The ELLERBE Family History

Biographical Dictionaries and Related Works, 2nd ed., Vol. 1 and 2

Family Puzzles

Green County Magazine

Marion County Scrapbook

Looking Back vol. 3

Homemade Memories

The Daughters of the American Revolution, Shreveport Chapter will be making a large donation of microfilm in the near future. The microfilm (898 rolls) will be selected records from Revolutionary War Pensions and Warrant Application files, 1800-1900. Donations will be received over an extended period of time.

The Genealogy book collection is not only enhanced by donations, but also by monthly purchases. Some recent additions are:

Gen. B-TAYLOR	BROUGHER, Frances	Pink TAYLOR, cattleman and lawman
Gen. 323.623	NEWMAN, John	American naturalization processes and procedures, 1790-1985
Gen. 929.1	STREETS, David	Slave genealogy

ARK-LA-TEX GENEALOGICAL ASSOCIATION
RENTAL LIBRARY CHANGES ANNOUNCED

Your society genealogical library is making some changes. The books will now be housed at our meeting place and available for research and/or loan on regular meeting days. Times open for the remainder of the year are:

November 8-----10 AM to 3 PM
December 13-----1:30 to 3 PM

Fee for rental is $2.00 monthly, meeting day to meeting day, to be paid when book is taken out. Only members will be able to take books out on loan, but friends or relatives may come with you and use the library for research.

Our library is beginning anew, so we are making a request of our membership. All of us have bought a book, census, tax roll, marriage or quarterly only to realize it was not what we needed after all. These get pushed to the back of the bookshelves or file drawers, never to be used and simply taking up needed space. Look through your collection of resource material, make room for your needed books and etc. by donating those "stuck back" ones to our society library. Remember, genealogical material never goes out of date, someone can always use what you are finished with. If you need a pick-up, please call Joyce Bridges at 925-0615

TITLE: SEARCH FOR THE PASSENGERS OF THE MARY & JOHN 1630
Volume I - Passengers and Their Children
Volume II - Descendants' Return to the Ancestral Homes-1985
by Burton W. Spear

ORDER FROM: Burton W. Spear
5602 305th St.
Toledo, Ohio 43611

COST: Volume I, $13.50; Volume II, $14.00 softbound

Volume I is the first work of an effort to identify passengers of a boat that left Plymouth, England on March 20, 1630 as part of the great "Winthrop Fleet" and landed on the shores of Nantasket in New England May 30, 1630. No official passenger list was ever found and for over 100 years researchers have been trying to find evidence to clarify who were the reported 140 men, women and children aboard. This book is the result of seven years of research to determine the most probable passengers. The 75 page volume includes references to aid future searches.

In May 1985, the author and 80 other descendants spent 16 days in England touring the birthplaces of the passengers, to Plymouth and then to New England where the passengers had finally landed in long boats at Savin Hill in Dorchester. Finally, a new society, "The Descendants Of The Founders Of Ancient Windsor", has been founded with genealogies of the Windsor, Connecticut families being compiled, many of whom were "Mary & John" families. For more information write to their address at 96 Palisado Ave., Windsor, CT 06095.

This second volume is dedicated to the memory of Kate Wolcott, one of the members of the tour. Kate, a well known resident of Shreveport, Louisiana, was killed in a tragic bus accident near Angola, Indiana, in October 1985, while acting as a tour director with a group of retirees returning from Canada to Shreveport.

TITLE: A 6,500 NAME COMPREHENSIVE INDEX TO STATE-WIDE MISSOURI OBITUARIES FROM "THE ST. LOUIS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE" (Methodist) 1851-1882, compiled and published by Mrs. Howard W. Woodruff, C.G.R.S.

ORDER FROM: Mrs. Hoard W. Woodruff
1824 South Harvard
Independence, Missouri 64052

COST: $6.00 softbound

The obituaries listed in this index originally appeared in the columns of the St. Louis Christian Advocate, a weekly newspaper, that contained items of interest for all members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, within the Missouri area. Those indexed have have been abstracted and published in 16 different volumes in three series. A name from this index can be located in one of the volumes through a coding system. If the reader locates a familiar name in the INDEX and would like to obtain a copy of the obituary published in one of the aforementioned Series, the book may be found in most of the large libraries, or it can be purchased from the publisher. The three Series mentioned are MISSOURI PIONEERS by Nadine Hodges and Mrs. Woodruff; MISSOURI MISCELLANY and MISSOURI OBITUARIES published by Mrs. Woodruff. There are 132 pages in the INDEX.

TITLE: AN ATLAS OF LOUISIANA SURNAMES OF FRENCH AND SPANISH ORIGIN, by Robert Cooper West

ORDER FROM: Geoscience Publications
Louisiana State University
Baton Rouge, LA 70803-4105

COST: $37.50 + $2.50 postage & handling softbound

This is Louisiana's first compendium of early families. This atlas provides a basic reference to 100 families who pioneered settlement in Louisiana. For each, Dr. West has traced the migration patterns from original settlement through most of the twentieth century by the agnatic line. The index holds a vast number of surnames related consanguineously and maritally to the subject families. Maps for each surname depict the current distribution of present-day concentrations of the families in Louisiana, the Gulf Coast and in eastern Texas. Dr. West is Boyd Professor emeritus of Louisiana State University. Two colors. 212 pages.

TITLE: WHO MARRIED WHOM - GREENE COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI
by Patricia N. Edwards and Jean Strickland

ORDER FROM: Ben Strickland
P. O. Box 5147
Moss Point, MS 39563

COST: $25.00 plus $1.00 postage & handling

The purpose of this book is to list all Caucasian persons residing in Greene County, Mississippi 1820-1880, their military service, place and year of birth, year of marriage and name of spouse. The basic list was taken from the 1820-1880 census and tax rolls. This information was then added to and corrected as data was found or received. Because of the lack of county records a majority of additions came from family researchers or descendants. 124 pages with index. The authors are presently working collecting data for similar books on Perry, Jones and Wayne counties in Mississippi.

compiled by John C. Head

ORDER FROM: J & W Enterprises
2838 Jody Lane
Shreveport, LA 71118

COST: $12.00 plus $.75 postage softbound

The author, John Head, is one of our own Ark-La-Tex Genealogical Association members. Telfair County, Georgia was formed in 1807, being part of the Wilkerson County Land Lottery. The first marriage was recorded 1 August 1810. The courthouse burned in 1935 but the marriage records appear to have survived. Records existing in four marriage books are included in this volume, with a complete explanation of missing and blank pages and a description of the condition of the books. 52 pages plus index.

TITLE: MIRACODE/SOUNDEX SURNAME CODE
compiled and edited by Johnny L. King

ORDER FROM: Johnny L. King
2902 Boss Avenue
Shreveport, LA 71109

COST: $35.00 spiralbound

This book is a handy, compact and thorough research tool in re-searching U. S. Census schedules, Mississippi Marriage Records and many other records employing the Soundex filing system. A Shreveport librarian, Mr. King noted the frustration of many people who were confused in their attempts to decipher the desired code. He has compiled a list of over 24,000 different surnames with their respective Soundex/Miracode codes. This handy source enables one to locate the desired surname and code in seconds. Blank pages are included to list those surnames not found in this text. Locally in Shreveport copies are available both in the genealogy room of Shreve Memorial Library and in the library of the Ark-La-Tex Gen. Assn.

ORDER FROM: Elizabeth Bryan Forbes
R.R. 2, Box 5182
Spirit Lake, Iowa 51360

softbound

The 676 pages of this impressive book is organized into four sections. The first includes available information to date on William Bryan, Junior and Senior (father and grandfather of John Bryan) and the siblings of John Bryan, with whose family the volume is mostly concerned, Section 2: John Bryan and wife Rachel Younger Mackrill. Section 3: information on each of their children. Section 4: the index, divided into two parts. The record is in looseleaf form because Ms. Forbes plans to issue an annual Bryan newsletter to those purchasing the book.
